

WOMAN BEATEN AND
ROBBED OF $40,000
WORTH OF JEWELS

Attacked by Three Masked
Men and Escort Is Gagged.

New York, March 9.—The $40,000 in jewels Mrs. Fay Perkins wore in a Broadway supper club place, attracted considerable attention early today. She returned home a few minutes before 4:30 o'clock. Her front doorbell rang. When she answered it three masked men with revolvers faced her. A man who had escorted Mrs. Perkins home was bound and gagged. Mrs. Perkins screamed. A robber hit her with his revolver. While she was unconscious she was robbed. The robbery of Mrs. Perkins followed a series of such holdups of women who had worn a fortune of gems to cafes and had been followed home by thieves. Police records contain among numerous others the names of Edith Bohe, wealthy milliner; Louise Lawson and Dot King, both show girls and both killed by the men who stole their jewels.

LEAGUE COUNCIL IN
SESSION TO PREPARE
PROGRAM IN SECRET

Meeting—Public Session
Chamberlain Presides At Private
Schedules

Geneva, March 9.—The league council went into private session at 11 a.m. today with Austen Chamberlain presiding, to prepare a program. The first public session will be held this afternoon. Foreign ministers Skrynski, of Poland, and Benes, of Czechoslovakia, and former Premier Briand, of France, and Venizelos, of Greece, were in attendance. The fate of the Geneva protocol and determination of the difference between Greece and Turkey over the election of the Ecumenical patriarch from Constantinople were important questions to be considered by the council.

The council adjourned at noon after its secret session. The English and French delegates will hold private conversations this evening. "Really I can almost say I am here on a study trip," Chamberlain told international news service.

FEBRUARY WRECKS
MARTIAL VENTURES

More matrimonial ventures went on the rocks in February than in the month preceding. It is shown by records in the clerk's office in the Court House. Eleven petitions asking for divorce were filed in February, five by men and six by women, as compared to a total of but eight filed in January. As in February, more men were alleged to have broken their marriage contract than women, and while five men sought separation in January, but three men filed suit for divorce, in that month. Only two petitions for divorce have been filed in March.

JEANNE EAGLES IS
ILL IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, March 9.—Miss Jeanne Eagles, star in "Rain," now playing here, who quit the company Saturday because of illness, was still at the Hollenden Hotel here today. She refused to allow visitors, but her manager again denied reports that she was to marry E. H. "Ted" Coy, former Yale football star. It was said Miss Eagles would go to Washington today to consult her family physician and perhaps undergo an operation for digestive trouble.

Instead, he confined Jackie Duff, mystery baby, to the care of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. The boy was claimed by both Mrs. Martha Silkmitter and Mrs. Russell Stelmig. Mrs. Stelmig declaring he had been kidnapped from her in his infancy.

DEAD HAND AT WHEEL
OF CAREENING AUTO;
PASSENGER SWOONS

Building Stops Flight Of
Uncontrolled Car In
Cleveland Traffic

Cleveland, O., March 9.—Horror-stricken, Miss Margaret Ogelsby, sat in the front seat of an auto as it careened down Detroit Road with a dead man at the wheel today. While she clung to her seat and screamed, the auto plunged over a curb, climbed a bank and struck a building, knocking a corner from it. Clutching at the wheel, the girl swerved the machine back into the road and it careened across onto the opposite curb and stopped with a crash as it struck another building. Miss Ogelsby had fainted when she was found. Her uncle, C. L. Linehan, 50, was lying prostrate over the wheel. He had died of heart disease. The girl told hospital authorities she was returning home with her uncle when she noticed the auto swinging from side to side. She noticed the man had slumped over the wheel and believed him asleep. When she tapped him on the shoulder to awaken him, the auto swerved into the first building.

VESSEL DAMAGED
IN FOG ACCIDENT

New York, March 9.—Her number two hold stove in and filled with water, following a collision with the shipping board tanker, Dannedajke, off Nantucket last night, the Dutch freight Aalsum, was slowly proceeding to New York today under her own power, according to wireless messages received by the naval communications office. The crash occurred in a heavy fog last night, about twenty five miles south of Nantucket. The tanker was damaged only slightly. Huff, of the Aalsum sent out an "sos" saying his boat was leaking badly. All radio broadcasting along the North Atlantic seaboard was ordered halted to give clear transmission to the "sos" calls.

IBANEZ ORDERED TO
SPAIN FOR TRIAL

Madrid, March 9.—Blasco Ibanez, famous author, was ordered by the Spanish government today to return to Madrid to stand trial on charges of lese majeste, attacking the form of government and with inciting the populace to rebellion. Ibanez at present is in France. He has carried on an active propaganda against King Alfonso and the present monarchistic government.

DESERTER DIES BY
GAS POISONING

Huntington, W. V., March 9.—Death, due to noxious gas poisoning, was the coroner's verdict today in the case of Norvall Leason, alias Walter Leason, 31, alleged deserter from the United States army, whose body was found in a rooming house here. A bottle of poison, found on the bed, led to a suicide theory at first but after a thorough investigation today the coroner rendered the gas death verdict.

THIRTY ARRESTED

Helmsingfors, March 9.—Thirty persons have been arrested in Leningrad, charged with a serious plot against the soviet government, according to advice here today.

New York To Be Nation's
Battle Field In Great War
Between Booze And Dries

Western Attorney To
Lead Enforcements In Fight Now.

New York, March 9.—New York is to become the nation's battlefield—an Armageddon in the great war between booze and law enforcement, it was indicated today by U. S. Attorney Emory R. Buckner, transplanted midwesterner, whose legal earthquake rocked the bootleg universe when he began padlock proceedings against fourteen of New York's most exclusive night clubs and cafes. "I expect the padlock provision of the liquor law to be carried to U. S. supreme court," said Buckner. "Padlock cases to date have been carried to the circuit court of appeals."

Undaunted by the legal threat which was said to have been carried to the federal building "down town" from the roistering forties, uptown, Buckner continues preparations to begin proceedings to padlock places selling liquor in New York. "Who is Buckner?" patrons of the night clubs are asking. Buckner is a lawyer who knows his weapons. He is a short stocky blue eyed man with iron-gray hair and an aggressive personality. His father was a minister of the gospel, a Methodist circuit rider, who carried "the Word" over the far flung prairies. It was not an unusual thing for the Buckner family to be living in Iowa, Nebraska and Oklahoma all within a few months. Buckner's father is now a minister in Chamberlain, N. D. As a boy Emory worked very hard when he was young and won his way to national eminence through sacrifice and diligence.

"The day I was sworn into office, I swore off taking an occasional drink," Buckner said. "I do not drink and my staff does not drink." "I am not a crusader. The law against liquor is explicit. I was appointed to enforce the law. I am going to enforce the law."

MAY RE-OPEN OLD
CASES RESULT OF
DENNISTOUN CASE

Disclosed Friends of Sir John
Cowan Attempted To
Forestall Suit

London, March 9.—Reopening of cases considered closed and introduction of the name of a woman of high social standing were discussed today as society awaited the resumption tomorrow of the suit brought by Mrs. Dorothy Dennistoun against Colonel Ian Dennistoun, now the husband of Dowager Countess Carnarvon. One effect of the suit, according to report, would be a new investigation into a wartime military case in which a Lieutenant Barrett was removed from the service because he was said to have made himself offensive to a woman of high position. Another angle in which society interested itself was the question of the introduction in the present trial of the name of a society woman who considered herself friendly with Sir John Cowan, the "general X," of the Dennistoun suit. Disclosures of the present suit have been a considerable surprise to her. Cowan's friends, it was learned, used the greatest efforts to prevent the present case coming to trial. They were frustrated although it is reported they even offered to pay the sum for which Mrs. Dennistoun is suing.

REMOVAL OF M'COOK
FIELD WILL START
MAY 1, ANNOUNCED

The first actual work of transforming Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield, now one of the air service's largest supply depots, into the largest air dome in the country, will begin about May 1, officials announced Saturday. The field will be a joint experimental station for the army air service and a supply depot. It is planned McCook field is to occupy the site east of Dayton, consisting of 5,000 acres, donated to the government by Daytonians as the base for its wholesale experimental work. It was planned by some service officials months ago, to remove Wright Field to Middletown, Pa., leaving the entire field open to the work of the engineering division. This plan was blocked for at least a year, when citizens of Osborn enlisted the support of a number of congressmen in their effort to keep the supply depot in Greene County. Since nothing definite has been said as to the removal of the field later on, when the construction work begins May 1, it must be with the joint field in view. Recent congressional action gave an appropriation of $500,000 for the purpose of laying streets and roadways, establishing sewers, building foundations and similar work as the preliminary movement toward the establishment of the field on the site. A representative of the construction quartermaster's office at Washington is expected in Dayton soon, to pass upon the plans for this work, which have been prepared several weeks.

EVIDENCE IN SUMMIT
COUNTY BOOZE CASE
WILL BE GIVEN JURY

McDonald Will Give Bernstein
Information On Liquor
Scandals

Columbus, O., March 9.—All evidence obtained by state authorities relative to the Summit County liquor scandal is to be presented immediately to the United States grand jury now sitting at Cleveland. State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald was directed by Governor Donahy today to go to Cleveland this afternoon and submit to United States District Attorney Bernstein all information secured by the governor and the state prohibition enforcement department relative to charges that federal dry laws were violated in Summit county. It is understood Bernstein will turn this information over to the federal jury at once.

ANOTHER ESCAPED
PRISONER CAUGHT

Wellsburg, W. Va., March 9.—Another of the four prisoners, who escaped from the Brooke County Jail here by tunnelling through the walls was back behind the bars today following the arrest of George "Tex" Lewis, indicted for highway robbery, by Sheriff Robert L. Lewis. The sheriff was walking along the river bank and saw a negro stealing a skiff, he said. He followed the negro to his hiding place and captured him.

AIR SERVICE ROW
ARRIVES IN SENATE

Washington, March 9.—The air service row came to the senate for the first time today. Secretary of War Weeks appeared before the military affairs committee to testify as to the record and character of Colonel James E. Fechet, appointed to succeed Brigadier General William Mitchell, as assistant chief of army air service.

HELD FOR FATALLY
SHOOTING SISTER

Akron, O., March 9.—Henry Sims was arrested early this morning on a charge of fatally shooting his sister, Lola, 23. The killing took place at the Sims home during a free for all fight, after an all night party. Sims, who fled, was arrested within fifteen minutes after police learned of the affray. Other members of the family and guests at the party have been detained for questioning.

MILLIONS LOST IN TAXES BY U. S.
FROM STEEL AND ALUMINUM FIRMS

Evidence Introduced Before Senate Committee Shows Excessive
Amortization Allowances Cost Government Heavily—
Mellon Stockholder Of Company Benefitted

Washington, March 9.—Evidence designed to show that the government lost millions of dollars in taxes from the United States Steel Corporation and the Aluminum Company of America through excessive amortization allowance has been laid before the special senate committee investigating the bureau of internal revenue the committee's records disclosed today. Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, Andrew Mellon is a heavy stockholder of the Aluminum Company. L. C. Manson, counsel for the committee declared that the steel corporation was allowed an amortization over the allowance of $27,926,014, and the aluminum company at least $6,500,000. "Taxes collected from a corporation by the government decrease as amortization allowances increase. "The amount of amortization granted by the U. S. Steel Corporation was $83,482,961," declared Manson. "The amortization allowed by the bureau of internal revenue was $55,063,312. The amount considered proper by your counsel and the engineers (the committee's) is $27,138,987. "The over allowance was $27,926,014. The tax difference was $21,438,113."

WANT APPROVAL OF
COMMITTEES MINUS
INSURGENT NAMES

Democrats Pledged To Support
Effort To Oust
Independents.

Washington, March 9.—Administration leaders launched a drive today for ratification of their order expelling the LaFollette insurgent bloc from the Republican ranks of the senate. The issue was brought squarely before the senate when Republican leaders called up their list of committee assignments for confirmation. On this list, Senators LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin and Ladd, Republican of North Dakota, were deprived of committee chairmanships and along with Senators Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, and Frazier, Republican of North Dakota, barred from their old seniority rights and Republican privileges.

The attitude of Democratic senators who pledged "neutrality" in the fight, defeated all hope that the insurgents might overturn the order by a vote of the senate. Led by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, minority leader, the Democrats were pledged to the administration's slate, which in effect was an endorsement of the expulsion order. The minority, however, made no effort to punish their own recalcitrant, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who bolted his party to run with Senator LaFollette last November. Opposition to the punishment rose solely from the insurgent victims and a handful of independent Republicans led by Senator Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska. Borah informed his colleagues that they would live to regret their action and that the ouster proceedings would defeat many Republican senators of the west when they came up for reelection in 1926. He charged the insurgents truly represented their own Republican constituencies.

With the insurgent row ended, the administration faced an even greater task in the senate in their efforts to obtain confirmation of the appointment of Charles B. Warren as Attorney general. Bitter opposition to the appointment has developed among progressive senators of both major parties. On two test votes the administration was defeated but Republican leaders continued to predict the nomination will be confirmed when a final vote is taken. Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, and Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, were leaders in the fight against Warren. Walsh charged his confirmation would result in suspension of the Sherman anti-trust law during the remainder of the Coolidge administration because of Warren's alleged connection with the sugar interests.

NAMING OF FECHET
HAS BEEN APPROVED

Washington, March 9.—Nomination of Lieut. Col. James E. Fechet, as assistant chief of army air service, succeeding Brigadier General William Mitchell, was approved today by the Senate military affairs committee. Approval was given after Secretary of War Weeks in secret session reviewed Fechet's air record. No objection arose to the nomination, said Senator Wadsworth, Republican of New York, committee chairman.

Senate Opposition To Brown
Gas Tax Bill Expected To Crumble Tuesday

Columbus, March 9.—Ohio legislators will move tonight to clear legislative calendars of important legislation and to wind up work of the present session before the end of the week. The next five days probably will be the busiest of the season. The schedule of work for the remainder of the session will be mapped out tonight at a conference of leaders of the senate and house. Their plans are expected to be ratified at caucuses of the Republican majorities in the two houses Tuesday afternoon. It is expected to permit recess over the week of March 16, hold two sessions during the week of March 23 and then recess to April 9, or 10 when a final clean up before adjournment will be made.

Opposition to the passage of the Brown gasoline tax bill by the senate was reported to be crumbling today. The bill is expected to pass the senate Tuesday with senate amendment of auto tag fees 50 per cent by January 1, 1927. The measure will then be sent to conference and to committee for compromise, it is expected.

TRIO IS ACQUITTED
OF MAIL ROBBERY
OF LOCAL INTEREST

Repudiating the amazing crime confession of Herbert Wilson, ex-minister, "master criminal" and San Quentin "lifer" a jury in Los Angeles, Calif., acquitted Jack Elmerick, nationally known sporting man; Joe Bertsche, promoter and Frank Wilson, brother of Herbert Wilson, Saturday, following their trial in connection with the $2,000,000 mail robbery in Los Angeles, March 2, 1921. The trial was of local interest since several Greene Countyans were subpoenaed to give testimony in the case. The mail robbery in the West was supposed to be connected with that which occurred in Cincinnati four years ago, when school bonds, being sent from Jamestown to Cincinnati, were among the loot stolen by mail bandits. The bonds had been sent from Cincinnati to Cedarville, but were misdirected to Bowersville and while en route, from Bowersville back to Cincinnati were stolen. Six Greene Countyans, who handled the bonds, were called to testify in the trial in Los Angeles, but the subpoenas were later cancelled. The reason for the cancellation of the subpoenas was not learned locally, but it is thought that Wilson's confession and the new trend of the trial changed the case. The verdict of the jury supported the contention of defense counsel that Wilson made his amazing crime confession implicating the other three men in order to gain freedom.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS
TO REGAIN TRACT OF
WYOMING ACREAGE

Pomerene Heads Counsel
For U. S. as Teapot
Dome Revived.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 9.—The widely heralded "battle of Teapot Dome," opened in federal district court here today, amid surroundings unprecedented in a Wyoming court. The battle was being staged in this form of an equity case in which the United States government seeks to recover a 3,000 acre tract of naval oil lands in Wyoming, which it charged was leased by former secretary of the interior, Albert B. Fall, to Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil Company under circumstances involving bribery and fraud. The government was represented by a battery of half a dozen lawyers, headed by former Senator Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, while Sinclair's legal staff includes more than a dozen "high pressure" lawyers, with Martin W. Littleton, of New York, leading the defense fight. Fraught with charges by the government of fraud, collusion and conspiracy, the hearing promises to disclose exhaustive testimony, orally and by deposition that will name many persons prominent in public life and others intimately connected with the great petroleum industry of the country.

Government counsel announced today that the opening statement of their case by Senator Pomerene would be comparatively brief; Chief Counsel Littleton countered with the statement that in that event, "asses would be on the stand before noon recess."

Littleton, just prior to opening of the hearing, indicated the defense would only mildly object to presentation of depositions or testimony regarding transactions of the trading company. He emphatically declared, however that Sinclair had no connection with, or knowledge of these transactions. Senator Pomerene would not confirm reports that the government had a "surprise witness," who would testify Sinclair's participation in an organization meeting prior to the formation of the trading company. It is testimony along this line that government counsel desired from Blackmer and O'Neill and Osler. Evidence pertaining to alleged secrecy in conducting the negotiations for Teapot Dome will be submitted, it was indicated, including the executive order of the late President Harding transferring the naval oil lands from the navy to the interior department.

Former Secretary Fall had not arrived today and it was expected it would be late in the week before he took the stand. Speculation was rife as to his attitude, but in view of his refusal to testify previously, it is expected he will decline again, on constitutional grounds. E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, arrived yesterday and will be the first witness for the government. Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy will preside at the hearing, which is expected to cover a period of two or three weeks.

Wm. Marshall of Cedarville has no trouble in finding plenty of poultry these days. His ad in The Gazette and The Republican puts him in touch with farmers all over Greene County who have poultry for sale. "It certainly pays to advertise," said Mr. Marshall yesterday. "The Poultry and Supplies" classification is being widely read by hundreds daily. Turn now to the "Not Possible To Classify" column. Tomorrow phone an ad to 111.

A. N. SMITH FOUND DEAD SATURDAY AT HOME IN JAMESTOWN

A. N. Smith, 72, well known retired farmer was found dead in his home on Washington Street, Jamestown, Saturday afternoon. He had been dead about two days, according to Dr. R. L. Haines, county coroner who investigated.

It is thought that he suffered a heart attack while preparing to retire Wednesday night. The body was partially clothed and was lying on the bed when found by Mr. Smith's son-in-law, William H. Martin, of near Jamestown, Saturday.

Mr. Martin had gone to Mr. Smith's home because relatives or neighbors had not seen the man since Wednesday. He appeared to be ill at that time.

Mr. Smith's wife died ten years ago. He formerly operated a farm near Jamestown and moved to the village after retiring from active farm life. He was familiarly known as "Newt" Smith.

A daughter, Mrs. William H. Martin is the only close relative surviving. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Martin home with interment in Jamestown Cemetery.

PATRONS OF POSTAL SERVICE MUST KNOW NEW MAILING RATES

Attention of patrons of the postal services has been called by Postmaster C. S. Frazer, concerning the recent postal act embodying increased rates of postage affecting post cards and mail of the third and fourth classes, effective April 15.

"It is important that patrons familiarize themselves with the new changes as provided by the act in order to pay the proper postage on mail," declared Postmaster Frazer. "Failure to do this will cause confusion, delay, and inconvenience to the mailers."

The new rate on postcards is two cents. The new third class mail embraces all matter now included in the third and fourth classes up to and including eight ounces in weight, while the new fourth class matter will include all mail formerly in the third and fourth class more than eight ounces in weight.

An increase of two cents has also been provided in the act for money orders. Beginning with orders not exceeding $2.50, the rate will be five cents instead of three cents, and correspondingly up to a $100 money order with a twenty-two cent rate.

MOTHERS, HERE'S NEW FORM OF COD LIVER OIL YOUR CHILD WILL LOVE

America's largest laboratories have solved the cod liver oil problem once and for all, by creating a new form with the taste of rich cocoa. Coco Cod, as it is called, is being prescribed by physicians and recommended by teachers and scientists everywhere.

Your youngsters will love Coco Cod; they'll take it willingly. Best of all, it is wonderfully nourishing for little folks as well as grown-ups. For it contains in concentrated form the vital nerve-strengthening, blood-building elements (vitamins) which our modern food lacks.

Give your children Coco Cod and watch them thrive on it. Mothers and fathers who are tired, run-down or over-worked, find that it makes them feel alive in every fibre. Even athletes gain added vigor and rugged strength through Coco Cod.

All local druggists have Coco Cod, the new easy-to-take cod liver oil with the taste of rich cocoa. Caution: Coco Cod is sold only in liquid form, in 12-ounce bottles, never in tablets. Best results are obtained with pure Norwegian cod liver oil in original liquid state. In Coco Cod you have the benefit of the finest, purest oil with the taste of rich chocolate.

TRAINING CAMPS' POPULARITY SHOWS INCREASE THIS YEAR

Popularity of Citizens' Military Training Camps is evidenced by the fact that 1,500 applications from former graduates have been received at Fifth Corps Area headquarters, at Columbus, since the 1925 campaign, got officially under way March 1, it is said.

The Greene County campaign was formally opened at the same time when chairmen appointed in the county to conduct the campaign locally received supplies of blank applications.

A "Bring a Buddy" movement, inaugurated among the candidates last year, is expected to be of material assistance in bringing the campaign to a successful close, with the full quota enrolled by June 1. To stimulate interest in the drive, medals will

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Loog young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

be awarded to the young men enrolling the greatest number of friends in each county, as well as state- and corps area.

Age limits for the beginners course are between 17 and 24, and all applicants must pass a physical examination and submit a certificate of good moral character.

Although the government pays all expenses including transportation to and from camps, the candidate is placed under no obligation to the army.

Greene Countians will go to Camp Knox, Ky., this year. The training period is held in July.

JUVENILE JUDGE IN FAVOR OF PARK

"I am heartily in favor of the park proposition," Judge S. C. Wright, head of the probate and juvenile branches of the Greene County courts made this statement today.

Judge Wright's court is really the domestic relations court of Xenia and Greene County.

Before him daily are the problems of the delinquent child. The neglected child. The misunderstood child. The problems as well, of the parents of those three.

He says this: "A park such as proposed by the Xenia Recreation Association would provide a splendid outlet for the superfluous energies of the child and his elders."

"It would be conducive to the welfare of the public in general."

"Properly supervised, as I understand it will be, such a park would be an asset to Xenia."

"It would, too, provide a beauty spot, where at the close of a hot summer day, the family without its own home lawn could spend a few cool, happy hours."

"I believe the park should be built. I want to see the drive succeed."

FOUR TEAMS ARE TO MEET IN TOURNNEY ROUND NEXT FRIDAY

St. Xavier's and Norwood, Cincinnati teams, Stivers, of Dayton, and Springfield High School, will meet in the semi-finals of the Southwestern Ohio Regional Basketball tournament next Friday at the Fairground coliseum in Dayton. These four teams earned the right by winning their first and second round games Saturday in Dayton.

Stivers won from Roosevelt in the first round by a score of 19 to 11 and defeated Steel High in the second round by a 33 to 12 count. Steele had entered the second round by eliminating Urbana 29 to 21.

In the upper bracket with Stivers, Norwood beat Troy in the first round 25 to 18 and entered the semi-finals by defeating Sidney 42 to 6. Sidney had previously drawn the only bye in the first round.

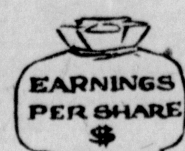

In the lower bracket, St. Xavier's won from Middletown 19 to 17 and defeated the U. of D. Preps 15 to 11. Springfield won from Hamilton 22 to 18 and beat Greenville 32 to 9. Greenville won its first round game from Piqua 19 to 13.

Xenia Central High School lost its opening game to the Dayton Preps 25 to 20.

In the semi-finals Norwood will play Stivers, while Springfield will have St. Xavier's to play.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

- this determines a stock's VALUE

NOT THESE

Earning power, not book value, is the determining factor in judging what a stock is worth.

Book value can not be used as a measure of valuing the market price of a stock. The question then arises what can be used?

The common stock of the United States Steel Corporation sells at about 25 per cent of its book value. Woolworth stock, on the other hand, is commonly found in the market at 300 per cent of its book value. Yet the market price of both stocks range between 5 and nine times their respective earnings per share.

The book value of the stocks has no relation to the market price, and both stocks correspond to a certain general earning ratio.

Consequently, in determining the market value of any stock, the most important factor to consider is earning power.

EAVEY APPOINTED HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Herman Eavey, president of the Greene County Board of Commissioners received notice Monday of his appointment as chairman of the executive committee of the Ohio State County Commissioners Association, for the ensuing year.

HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUBS WILL STAGE NEW MUSICAL COMEDY

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs of Central High School under the direction of Miss Harriet McCarty, director of music in the public schools, are presenting a musical comedy "Once In A Blue Moon" at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium at Central High School Tuesday evening March 17.

The production promises to surpass those of previous years inasmuch as the combining of the various voices and the type of the performance will be more appealing to the public. The musical comedy that has been selected is of a modern atmosphere and assures many hearty laughs. In its lines. Besides all these qualities it is a production that has been recently published and its presentation in other schools of various states has met with success.

The cast includes sixty mixed voices and under Miss McCarty's direction has worked out the fine points in the musical selections. The cast will be announced later. A well filled house is expected to greet the production. Tickets are now on sale.

AN INEXPLICABLE ATTITUDE

WHEN the United States granted suffrage to women it was given on exactly the same conditions as enjoyed by men. We imagine there would have been a lovely row had it been proposed that only those women who had attained 30 years of age could exercise the right, while men nine years their juniors were privileged to cast their ballots. Why Great Britain imposed such restrictions as these on the women at the start may not be so puzzling as the reasons they persist in that course despite the efforts in Parliament to place women on an equal footing with men as to voting. Recently the government suppressed a measure to extend to women the age conditions that rule in the case of males.

Notwithstanding the existence of restrictions, Great Britain has gone further in elevating women to seats in Parliament than have we with no discrimination against the sex in regard to votes. This disposition of the British electors to choose women may be one reason for the opposition to lowering the age limit. Women outnumber men in England and were they placed on an equal footing in suffrage perhaps they would take things in their own hands and run away with them. If that is the fear of the government it does no credit to the British sporting instinct, though it might explain the position taken.

It is a general assumption that women mature at an earlier age than men. If this be true, British women would seem to be qualified for suffrage at as early an age as men or not at all. It being conceded that they are qualified at 30 years disposes of the last proposition. Then, why not at 21?

WOULD BE PERILOUS CONCESSION

NOT long ago a French woman slew a friend who suffered from an allegedly incurable and painful disease. At the trial the defense was set up that the act was one of mercy and justified under the circumstances. The woman was acquitted by a jury. The precedent thus established led to another similar case, also in France. More recently in Iowa a former army officer took the lives of both his parents because, as he explained, they were incurably ill and subject to great suffering. Since the perpetrator of these homicides removed himself at the same time, no judicial judgment was passed on the case.

Euthanasia has been advocated as not only justifiable but fully warranted in extreme cases. However much the victim might desire to be relieved of suffering through death, at the same time it would be highly perilous to concede to another the right to hasten the work of nature. What might be claimed as a deed of mercy might in fact be taken as a measure of relief from the care of the patient. Were such voluntary acts of euthanasia condoned, they would open ways to great abuses on the plea of dispensing mercy to the pain-wracked. Whether under any circumstances a physician would be justified in assisting in hastening the death of a patient might be argued on somewhat different grounds, but it is not likely that even that authority would be admitted by many.

Sane human nature revolts at any step which savors of taking human life. In cases of those near and dear to us we cling to them as long as life lasts, though we may at the same time rejoice that their pain has ceased since death was inevitable and the only source of relief. It is a matter of grave doubt whether the point will ever be reached where society will concede the right of hastening death as an act of mercy, though juries may adjudge not guilty those who may, usurp the authority.

ON NARROWNESS

I do not care for pumpkin pie. I cannot tell the reason why. But I've no fancy for that sweet. Which countless friends with relish eat.

In taste we differ. I confess. But still I like them none the less.

Then there is alligator pear. A fruit for which I do not care. Yet many faithful friends of mine think it a food supremely fine. They praise what I condemn as flat. But I don't call them names for that.

Some men I know wear colored spats, Gay vests and most unusual hats. Things which no clerk could sell to me

However glib he chanced to be; But 'spite of that I don't declare I only know what's right to wear.

I do not claim to be 'all-wise In such a simple choice as pies, Or hold that nothing good can be If it by chance displeases me; Among the friends I proudly name No two of them are just the same.

Why should religion raise a bar? In every temple good men are. And I have gathered friendships true From every creed and every pew; And I'll thank any church which lends A real addition to my friends.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

NEW FRIENDS

I have often wondered why it is that as we grow older new friends grow less attractive to us and old friends more luminous.

I recently read in a happy little book the statement that "there comes a time when new friends become impossible." At first I didn't agree, then the more I thought about it the more plausible the statement became.

It is good to have many friends, but I meet few who can boast of but few.

The fact remains that our likes age with our bodies, though our minds round out, mellow and grow more tolerant.

Yet even in this condition we have an increasing love for the chosen few who have watered the garden of our dearest desires and made calm and peaceful the walks of our everyday.

How beautiful to arrive at that age of friendship when the most ordinary and matter of fact occurrences, or indeed, remarks find a happy bending with those of our friends.

Real friends are never on dress parade.

We always see capacity and worth in our old friends. That is one reason why we can be very ordinary and commonplace and natural with them. They understand. No explanations, no excuses, or apologies are necessary or desired.

How the eyes brighten at the remark: "An old friend of mine!"

The journey to a real friend is a long, long one. And there is time for but a very few of these journeys during the short span of a life time. So all the more reason for making each journey one of happiness with roses scattered all along the way—especially in the out of the way and least expected places.

What a sweet and comforting thing friendship is anyway!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling up one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep," punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells—the spark that renews your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand.

Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FOGWELL IS OFTEN IN MONEY AT RACE MEETS IN FLORIDA

Ed Fogwell and his son, who have been wintering in the harness racing stable at Orlando, Fla., again come in for mention by E. L. Churchill sport scribe as follows:

The woods are full of 2:08 and slower trotters, ones that are very highly regarded, and the big money should appeal to them. Ed Fogwell and his son, of Osborn, who have been wintering a stable of horses at the Orlando, Fla., track, were surely in the limelight at the recent fair at that point.

"With Al Bingen 2:07, Fogwell pulled down first money in the free-for-all pace, with his other pacer, Al Jennings, 2:14 1/4, took second money, driven by Fogwell, Jr. Helen Marquie and The Specimen, two of Fogwell's good trotters, were money winners during the week. It is said that most of the horses now in training at Orlando will be moved to the Memphis, Tenn., track some time during this month."

ATHLETIC CLUB IS FORMED IN XENIA TO PUT TEAMS IN FIELD

An athletic club, to be known as Tilton's Athletic Club, was formed with twenty-five members enrolled at a meeting at F. E. Tilton's Clothing Store Sunday afternoon.

The activities of the club the year around will embrace practically every form of sport including baseball, football, fishing, basketball and tennis.

Election of officers Sunday resulted in the following being installed: Anell Stephens, president; Roy Bates, first vice-president; Dr. Wilbur Zell, second vice-president; Philip Buck, secretary-treasurer and F. E. Tilton, business manager.

A football team has already been organized, and a baseball team will be formed at the next meeting Sunday at the clothing store to which all those interested in sports are invited.

The organization unanimously decided on blue and gold for the colors of the club with emblem in the form of a triangle. Inscribed in the triangle will be the letters T. A. C.

No definite plans have been laid but it was considered likely that club rooms will be provided in the near future for members.

Ohio State won the Western Conference basketball crown Saturday evening when it defeated Indiana by a 28 to 26 score in a thrilling encounter. The Buckeyes have now ten wins and one loss for a .909 percentage. Illinois is second with eight victories and three defeats. Coach Olsen's lads have one more game to play this being with Wisconsin on Saturday at Columbus. This will also be the last game that Cameron, Miner, Shaw and Matusoff will play for the Scarlet and Grey school.

ML Union won the Ohio Conference basketball championship by beating Wooster 31 to 17. It was the Mounts' eleventh straight conference victory. Mount Union also won the crown last season scoring ten straight wins. It seems as though ML Union had rather an easy schedule playing tallenders.

Fans who attended the Southwestern Regional Ohio tourney conducted at Dayton last Saturday witnessed some mighty good games. One of the best games of the tourney was the Stivers-Roosevelt contest which was won by the former team 19 to 11. The Middletown and St. Xavier fracas was another hummer while Springfield and Hamilton put up a battle royal. Norwood High of Cincinnati, Stivers of Dayton, St. Xavier of Cincinnati and Springfield High survived after the first two rounds of play. Norwood will meet Stivers next Friday at the Fairgrounds while Springfield will take on St. Xavier the two winners will go to Columbus on March 20 and 21. They will also meet on March 14 at 8 o'clock to decide which are the champs of southwestern Ohio.

Central's defeat by the Preps came as a surprise to many of its followers. They played terrible ball excepting at the start of the game. Huston started the scoring with a fielder and Perrine found the net three times from the field a few minutes later. With a 10 to 5 lead they blew up and let the Preps catch them and the result was they were on the short end of the score at the end of 30 minutes of play.

Stivers of Dayton seems to be the chief contender for the southwestern crown and also the state title. The Orange clad athletes have a fifty court combination. Ramby and Egglish are the offensive stars. Cox, the lanky guard, is a demon at taking the ball off the banking board. Stivers will lose all its regulars but Evans, Steele also of Dayton has a fine court team that has plenty of beef. Bevan will lose all of his team excepting Matusoff. Roosevelt will probably make things tough for the above named teams next season as but one man will be lost by graduation. This means that Bollechino, Otey, Baker and Bartholomew will be back again with the Teddies.

MANY VISIT STYLE SHOW AT STORE HERE

An event for women who follow the fashions took place at Jobe Brothers Company, Friday, when a style show for large and tall women was held, and the large attraction of the show was evidenced by the several hundred women that filled the store between the hours of 10:30 and 2:30 o'clock.

The latest fashions, fabrics and colors were displayed on living models during the show. All the advance summer fashions were shown and the patrons of the show obtained many interesting ideas in dresses and frocks.

Bowling

The Xenia Arcade Alley Bowling match team, traveled to Dayton Sunday afternoon and lost to a Gem City five two games out of three although bowling a fine 2,664 total. The arcade five lost the first clash by one pin.

Priller and Kelley practically beat the locals singlehanded, the former getting a splendid 620 total while the latter missed the 600 mark by one pin. Frame and Jeffries were best for Xenia. Box score:

Xenia	170	139	172
Regan	170	136	171
Whittington	222	155	202
Frame	222	155	202
Pesavento	166	182	211
Jeffries	200	181	180
Total	935	793	936

The Arcade "5" gained a full game on the second place Quoit Club team as a result of the last week games in the bowling league by winning its three games while the runner-ups were winning but two.

HEADQUARTERS FOR PARK CAMPAIGN ARE OPENED AT CITY HALL

Activities in connection with the campaign of the Xenia Recreation Association to raise $10,000 to finance the proposed city park in the Dadds Addition, officially started Monday morning when campaign headquarters were opened in the engineers' room, City Hall, Main and Detroit Streets.

Miss Janice Owens, formerly secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was placed in charge of the headquarters Monday and began the preliminary work toward lining up solicitors for a one-day drive. The date for this concentrated effort to reach a full subscription has not been set, but will be next week.

More detailed plans for the financial campaign will be outlined at a special meeting of a group of members of the financial committee at the office of City Auditor T. H. Zell, who is directing the campaign, Monday evening. In the meantime the preliminary work will include a program of education in order to have the general public advised of the plans for the park, and the organization of workers who will carry the drive to a successful conclusion.

The general financial committee is being augmented daily by the addition of new names, and the appointed committee will be announced soon. The association proposed to beautify and establish park features on a ten-acre tract in the Dadds Addition donated to the association by P. H. Flynn. The plans are expected to result ultimately in Xenia's first park.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS TO MEET IN DAYTON

Girls' Glee Clubs of several Ohio colleges, including Western Reserve, Denison, Wesleyan, Wittenberg, Miami and Cincinnati, are meeting in Dayton, March 20, and will give a concert at the Y. W. O. A. that night.

Any one in Xenia who is interested in attending the concert may obtain tickets from Mrs. Karl Babb, East Second Street. The price will be fifty cents and the tickets will be on sale after Saturday. Judges will give prizes to the group of singers giving the best program of the evening.

CENTRAL LOSES TO DAYTON PREPS IN REGIONAL TOURNEY

The University of Dayton Preps eliminated Central High School from the Southwestern Ohio Regional Basketball tournament in the first round at the fairground coliseum in Dayton Saturday afternoon when it defeated the locals by a score of 25 to 20.

Central played miserable ball throughout the game with the exception of the first few minutes of play. Captain Perrine played best for the locals scoring eight points followed by Buell and Huston with five each.

SILVERCREEK TWP. FARM BUREAU WILL HOLD RALLY MARCH 11

Wednesday, March 11, has been set aside by the Silvercreek Township Farm Bureau for a rally to be held at the Grange Hall, Jamestown.

The affair will begin promptly at 6:30 with a covered dish dinner. A program has been arranged by the committee in charge that will consist of addresses, musical selections and a general discussion of farm work.

The Rev. L. L. Gray, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of Jamestown will deliver a short talk and E. C. Anstaeft of the State Department of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, who has been cooperating with local members in staging a drive for membership will also address the members.

A reading by Wilford Welmer and musical selections by a quartette and the Georgetown Orchestra under the leadership of Guy Turner will intersperse the program. A male quartette, composed of J. F. Gordon, E. W. Ballard, Harold Lewis and Mr. Elliott will also render several vocal selections.

All members are urged to be present and bring a covered dish and sandwiches.

SMALL FIRE LOSS

A small fire at the residence of Frank Lucas, 50 Center Avenue at 6:40 o'clock Sunday night, caused damage, estimated at $20. The blaze originated when a gas stand lamp was placed too near an open window, the lace curtains catching fire which in turn ignited a blind. The fire was extinguished with water before firemen arrived.

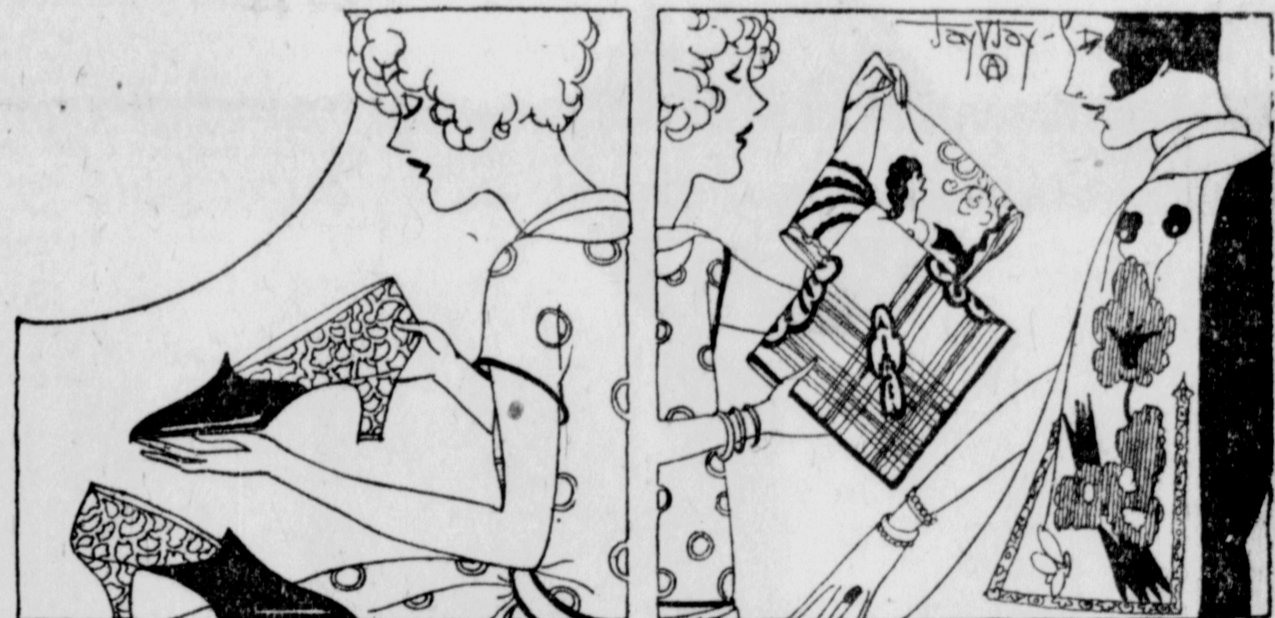

MODISH MITZI—How Is A Mere Man To Know?

By JAY V. JAY

"What are they anyway, Mitzi? These prints 'that are rapidly growing in popular favor?' asks Dad quoting from a news item he thinks will interest Mitzi. 'You are looking at one now,' replies Mitzi. Dad is of course, though he has to be told that the patterned fabric, like the top part of Mitzi's dress, is printed material."

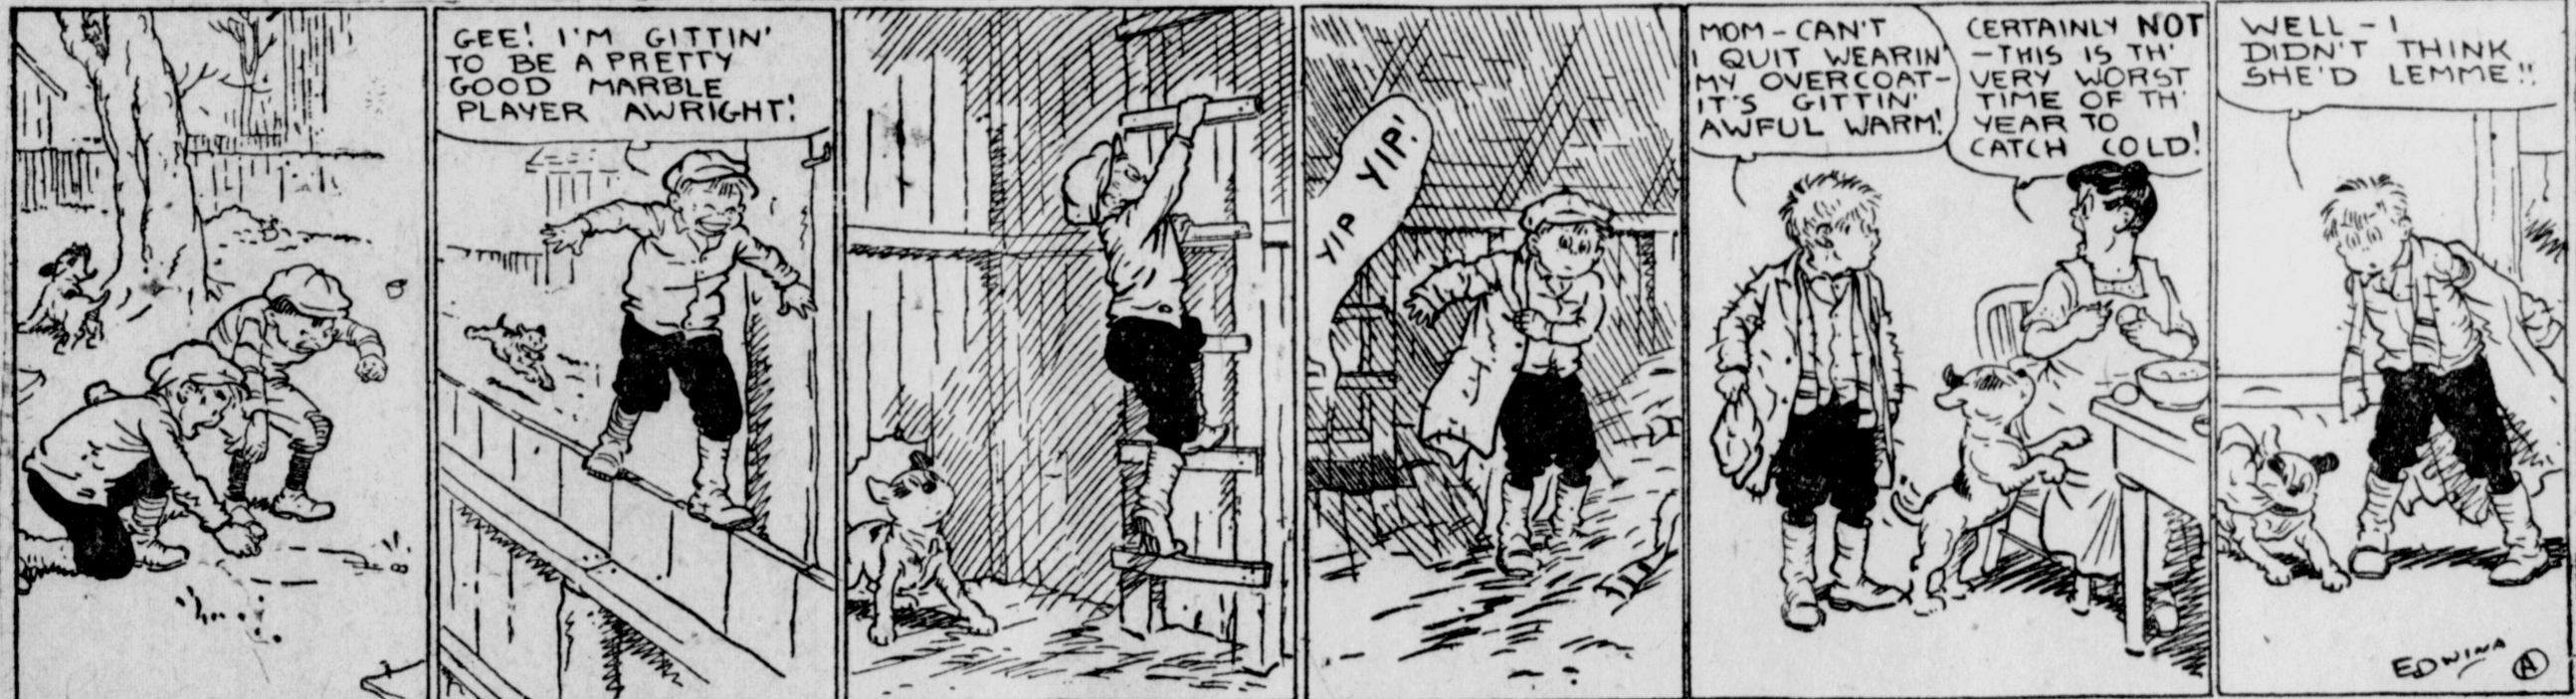

But the styles for prints don't stop with dress fabrics. That's where this gay new style really begins. The latest addition to the season's mode is printed gloves. Sometimes they are printed in Persian designs on suede or fabric. A stunning fashion one can hold in the palm of one's hand as it were."

The use of printed fabrics is not confined. A touch of printed material can be introduced in any costume. Polly is debating about these new slippers combining patent leather with printed heels and quarter. One thing Polly is sure of these are the gayest, brightest prints that ever walked in a fashionable world."

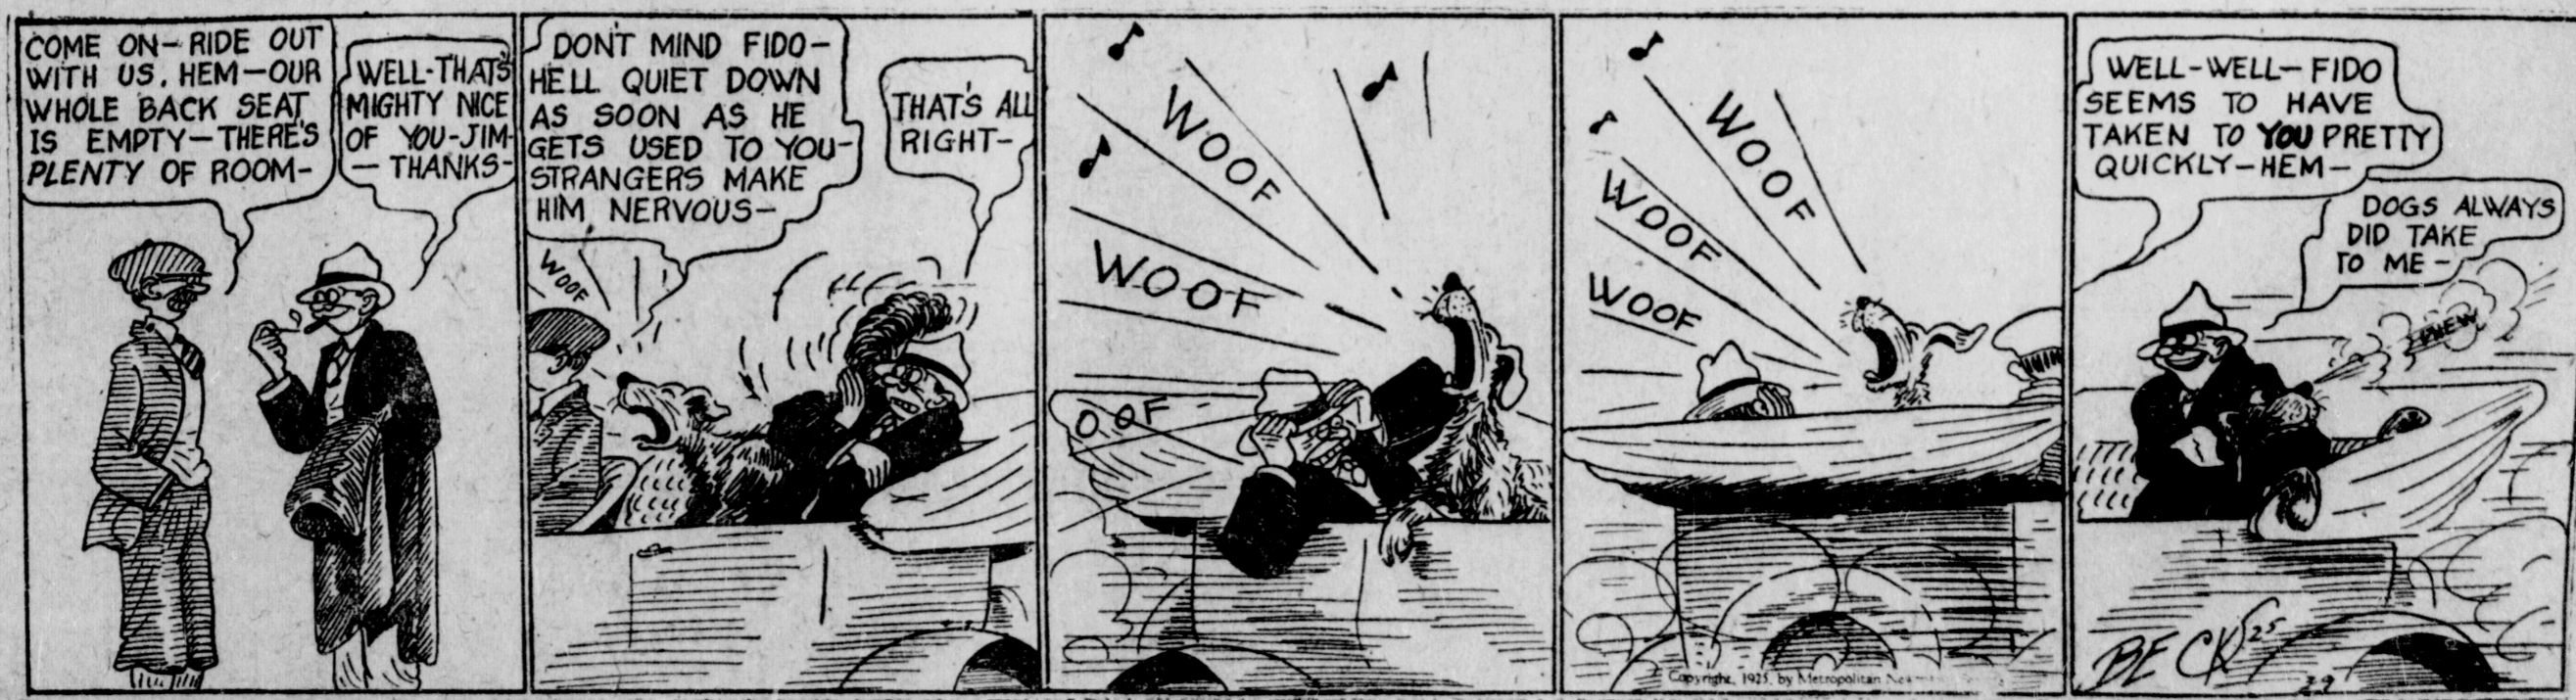

"Aren't they ducky?" asks Polly of Mitzi. One handkerchief is of printed linen and the other of printed voile. Any color to match anything. "They are striking" agrees Mitzi. "Almost as striking as my scarf." And who would contradict her."

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY"

BY MACK SAUER

Well, one never knows what is going to happen, does one? Today I have quite a surprise for you, as David remarked to Gollath. I have a man who is interested in Abigail Smearcase. Read his letter.

Cotton Run, O.
March 9, 1925.

Dear Brother Sauer:
I rite these words in anser to the purty gurl at Jamestown who wants a man. I wuz born in Jamestown in an early part of my infancy. As soon as I wuz big enuf to know what I wuz doin I moved here. I ain't got no body much an nobody keres fur me.

I am thirty years old and have a shot gun, a bicycle, three heens and a safety razor, all of which worldly goods I will gladly endow on Abigail.

Sum gurls are ciphers with bobbed heds that look like fiber brooms what you sweep off floors with. And when it cums to lovin their husban they have hearts about as big as good sized carbuncles. Guys what mary such kind don't have no more home sweet home than jackrabbit.

Abigail would make me a good wife, I know. And she would not find her ticket stamped one way either. She could have my bicycle to go places on. All she would have to do would be to cook three squares, chop the wud, wash my duds, set the sponge and tend to her bizness, I wud expect to be boss and do as I please.

I wud join the Hammer club and we wud be in society. When I think uv her my heart gets bigger than a box car. Tell her to rite.

Ez Ever,

TRACTION COMPANY LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

Lee H. Kearns, 1637 Weaver Street, Dayton, was awarded $2,000 damages by a jury in his suit against Otto Kuhn, Dayton moving van and storage proprietor, Harry E. Tolbert, bus line owner and the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Traction Company, in Dayton, Saturday.

Kearns was awarded the $2,000 damages against the traction company and Tolbert, while Kuhn was dismissed as a party defendant.

Damages were sought as the result of an accident, November 12, 1922, when Kearns, a bus passenger, was injured in a crash of the bus with a moving van and a traction car on Wyoming Street.

FARM BUREAU RALLY AT CAESARCREEK TO BE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Caesarcreek Township Rally of the Greene County Farm Bureau will be held Wednesday evening, March 11, at 7:30 at the K. of P. Hall, Paintersville.

A program has been arranged that will prove beneficial to the members of the bureau, and speakers for the evening have been obtained who will address the members along lines of interest to farmers. The main feature of the program will be an address on "Community Obligations" by W. R. Lewis, Wilmington, district director of the Ohio Farm Bureau. Walter Peale of Wilmington will address the farmers on "The Service Department of the Farm Bureau."

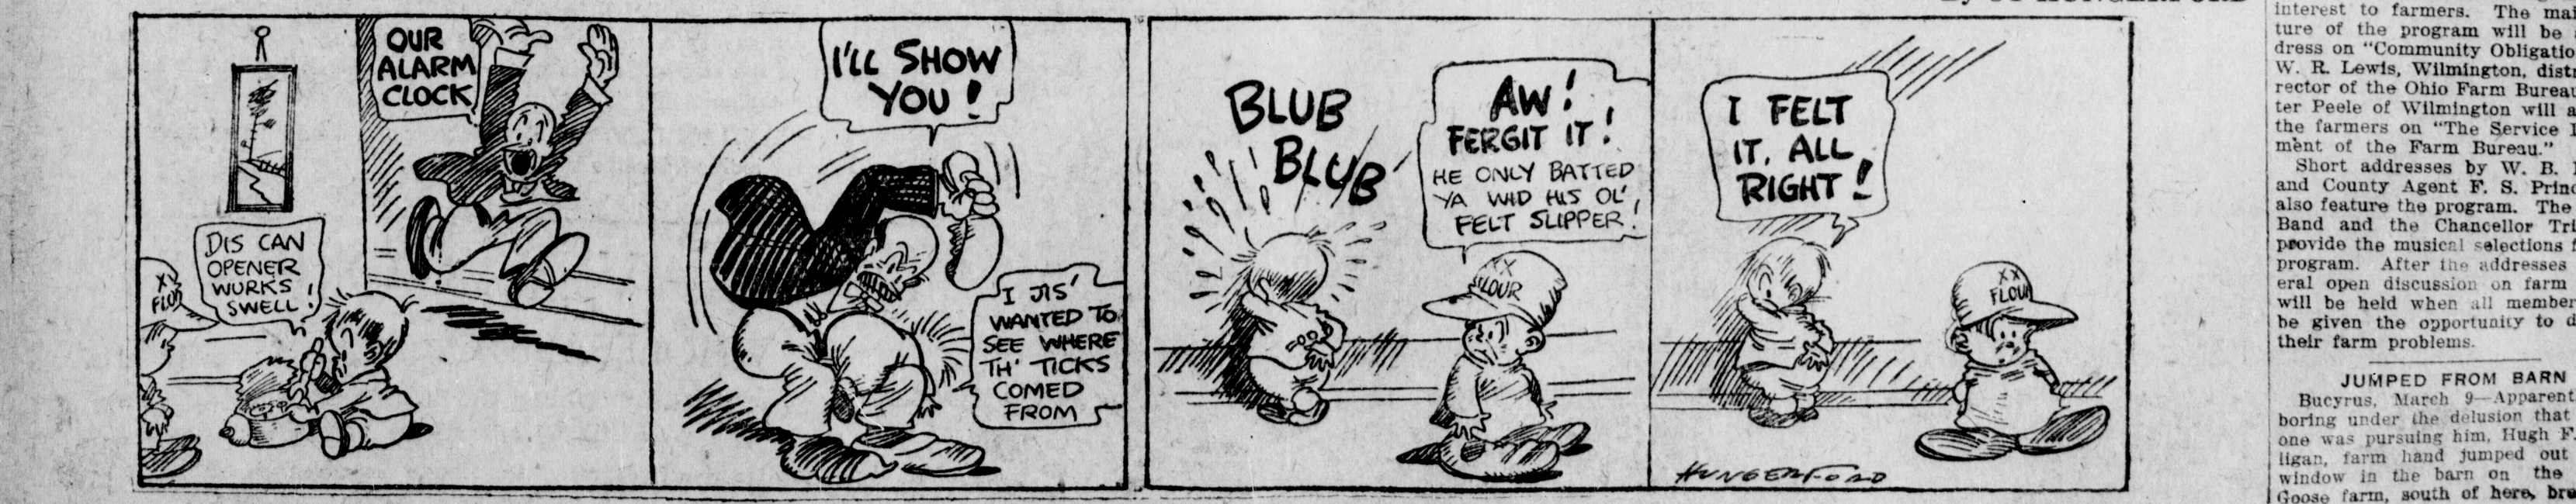

Short addresses by W. R. Bryson and County Agent F. S. Prince will also feature the program. The String Band and the Chancellors Trio will provide the musical selections for the program. After the addresses a general open discussion on farm topics will be held when all members will be given the opportunity to discuss their farm problems.

CHANGING IDEA IS IMPROVING SCHOOLS EDUCATOR DECLARES

"American teachers are changing their idea from the thing to be taught, to the person to be taught," was the statement of Dr. O. G. Brim, of the Department of Rural Education, of the Ohio State University, in an address before the Greene County teacher's meeting, in the assembly room of the Court House, Saturday.

"A tendency is growing in the American educational system, to its betterment, that each individual is unique," Dr. Brim said.

"Schools must bring out this characteristic and peculiarity on the part of each child," he said. "It is the job of the teachers to use books—not teach them. They are a means to an end, but the end or result must be the future of the child and the path he chooses."

"The child who leaves school with much learning and a hate of books has progressed little, but the child who leaves school, knowing little but loving books and the avenue afforded by them to greater learning will succeed," he declared.

"The test of teachers is their ability to impress the child mind with the worth-while things of life. It is not what the child has memorized but what he has gripped and carries on, that is worth-while."

He told the teacher to center his attention on the child in terms of character, whether or not he is kindly, has interest, resourcefulness, originality, responsibility and other character-moulding principles.

The program opened with music by the Beaver-Spring Valley Orchestra. Two songs were sung by a trio composed of Robert Beam, William Ham and Carl Sutton of Spring Valley Township.

Dr. Brim delivered a second address at the afternoon session, Mrs. W. S. Marshall, Yellow Springs, gave an address on "Parent-Teacher Association Responsibility in Rural Schools."

Music was furnished by the orchestra, a number was given by the Masters Brothers Quartette of Alpha, and Miss Wanda Hartsook, gave a vocal solo.

W. B. Bryson, president of the Greene County Board of Education, presided at the meeting. The assembly room was filled by teachers and others interested in educational problems.

PAST CHANCELLORS WILL MEET TUESDAY

The Past Chancellors Association of the K. of P. Lodge of Greene County, will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening, March 10, at Bellbrook. The meeting will be called to order at 8 p.m. by R. F. Thomas, president. All Knights of Pythias of Greene County are cordially invited to attend this meeting. This association is growing and is becoming the "strong arm" of Pythianism, it is said. Those wishing to go to Bellbrook Tuesday evening, will meet at Ivanhoe Hall at 7 o'clock.

MEET NEXT MONTH

Delaware, Mar. 9—The Ohio section of the Mathematical Association of America will meet in Columbus, April 3 in connection with the meeting of the Ohio College Association, according to announcement made here by Prof. Gordon N. Armstrong, Ohio Wesleyan University, secretary of the Ohio Mathematicians' organization.

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

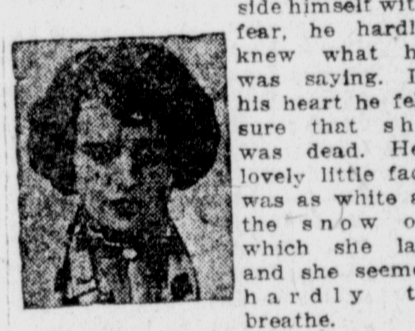

CYNTHIA LELAND's husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law, LOUELLA, and all her world.

Cynthia turns to CECILE MALCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XXXII—ALONE TOGETHER

"CYNTHIA!" Noel cried wildly, bending over the unconscious girl. "Cynthia, dear, speak to me! Are you hurt?"

VIOLET DARE

He tried to bring her back to consciousness by rubbing snow on her face, but after a few moments' unsuccessful effort gave up the attempt. Picking her up carefully after he had unstrapped her skis, he made his way slowly back to the top of the hill. To go on into the woods would be the height of folly, while from the hilltop he might be able to catch sight of some sign of civilization.

When he and Cynthia had stood on the hill it had seemed that there was no house or road anywhere near them. But standing there himself Noel studied the landscape far more intently. At last he found what he sought—a house, which had easily escaped his eyes before because it was so long and low, and so completely covered with snow.

It was some distance away, far down in the valley. Noel was an expert on skis, and Cynthia's little body was a light burden for him. He drew a long, deep breath, and then went skimming down the hillside, holding her close to him. He might have posed for a highly modern study of the angel of death as he flew along through the white night with Cynthia's lovely pale face pressed against his shoulder.

After what seemed years he reached the house, someone's summer camp which had been closed for the winter. He laid Cynthia on one of the built-in seats on the wide veranda, broke the front door's padlock with a stone, forced the inner door, and carried her into the house.

It was the work of but a few moments to make a fire in the big fireplace and lay Cynthia on the couch that he dragged into place in front of it. Carefully he took off her heavy woolen cap; as gently he removed her sweater, and in one more set about trying to revive her.

Dawn was making its way through the shuttered windows when at last she opened her eyes and looked up at him.

"Don't try to talk," he said quickly. "You were hurt, and I brought you here."

She sighed and tried to lift her head, only to sink back on the pillows with a moan.

"My head," she murmured. "It hurts so."

"Don't try to move; when morning comes I'll get a doctor and we'll see what's the matter." In his relief he wanted to leap and shout for joy. He had been sure that she was dead when he knelt beside her in the woods.

"But what happened? I can't remember."

"I don't know exactly; you seemed to catch one ski in something and swing around and crash into a stump. You took an awful fall."

"It's one shoulder that hurts, and my head," she said after a moment. "Help me to get up, Noel, please. Yes, do—I must see if I've hurt my back, so that I can't stand."

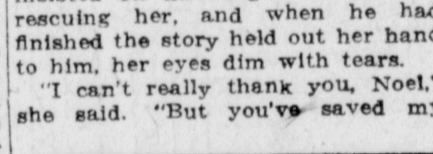

He lifted her to her feet, and let her stand alone for a moment. She took one or two steps, and sank back on the couch again.

"My shoulder hurts like the dickens, but I can stand," she told him with a faint smile. "Now I'll lie still."

"Then I'm going to forage in the kitchen and make you some coffee here on the fire; you'll feel better then," he announced.

They breakfasted by the fire in high spirits. Now that he was sure that Cynthia was not seriously hurt Noel thanked the kind gods for this chance to be alone with her. She insisted on knowing all about his rescuing her, and when he had finished the story held out her hand to him, her eyes dim with tears.

"I can't really thank you, Noel," she said. "But you've saved my life, and when I don't feel so shaky perhaps I can try to tell you how grateful I am."

She turned away helplessly.

"I didn't do anything worth being thanked for," he protested. "Of course, I did all I could for you, but who wouldn't? I'd hardly go off and leave you there to freeze, would I?"

She smiled at that. "No, of course not, only—well, it must have been rather hard to carry me here—and—"

"Even though I was scared to death about you, I've never known more wonderful moments than those when I was bringing you here," he answered. "I'd gladly go through life that way, Cynthia."

She turned away, helplessly. And presently, divinely comfortable in the heat from the fire, she struggled down among the cushions and went to sleep. Noel covered her with a steamer rug that lay across one of the chairs, and went out to the veranda to explore.

But daylight had brought a high wind and more snow. By the time Cynthia awoke a blizzard had set in. And so it happened that for two days and nights he and she camped out in a stranger's house, doing crossword puzzles, playing solitaire and talking endlessly during the day, and at night sleeping before the fire, the only one they dared keep up for fear the supply of wood would be exhausted.

And Cynthia, curled up on the couch and looking over at Noel, who lay on a pile of rugs before the fire, thought things over more than once during the long night hours, and arrived at what seemed like the one conclusion possible.

SALT—The One Thing Always Found on Every Table

AN IMPORTANT ITEM

Because it is more generally used than any other food stuff, the importance of pure salt cannot be exaggerated. "E" BRAND FREE RUNNING SALT tests MORE THAN 99% PURE and is as snowy white, sparkling and savory as modern methods can make it. Due to special treatment of the salt brine it is made FREE RUNNING with the addition of any unwholesome "filler."

"E" BRAND IODIZED SALT simply has a small percentage of health giving iodine added to the regular salt.

"E" BRAND IODIZED SALT is a preventative of and cure for goitre. Physicians urge its use in every home in this "goitre belt."

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

WOMAN BEATEN AND
ROBBED OF $40,000
WORTH OF JEWELS

Attacked by Three Masked
Men and Escort Is Gagged.

New York, March 9.—The $40,000 in jewels Mrs. Fay Perkins wore in a Broadway supper club place, attracted considerable attention early today. She returned home a few minutes before 4:30 o'clock. Her front doorbell rang. When she answered it three masked men with revolvers faced her. A man who had escorted Mrs. Perkins home was bound and gagged. Mrs. Perkins screamed. A robber hit her with his revolver. While she was unconscious she was robbed. The robbery of Mrs. Perkins followed a series of such holdups of women who had worn a fortune of gems to cafes and had been followed home by thieves. Police records contain among numerous others the names of Edith Bobe, wealthy milliner; Louise Lawson and Dot King, both show girls and both killed by the men who stole their jewels.

LEAGUE COUNCIL IN
SESSION TO PREPARE
PROGRAM IN SECRET

Meeting—Public Session
Chamberlain Presides At Private
Scheduled

Geneva, March 9.—The league council went into private session at 11 a.m. today with Austen Chamberlain presiding, to prepare a program. The first public session will be held this afternoon. Foreign ministers Skrynski, of Poland, and Benes, of Czechoslovakia, and former Premiers Briand, of France and Venizelos, of Greece, were in attendance.

The fate of the Geneva protocol and determination of the difference between Greece and Turkey over the rejection of the Ecumenical patriarch from Constantinople were important questions to be considered by the council.

The council adjourned at noon after its secret session. The English and French delegates will hold private conversations this evening. "Really I can almost say I am here on a study trip," Chamberlain told International News Service.

FEBRUARY WRECKS

MARTIAL VENTURES
More matrimonial ventures went on the rocks in February than in the month preceding. It is shown by records in the clerk's office in the court house.

Even petitions asking for divorce were filed in February, five by men and six by women, as compared to a total of but eight filed in January.

As in February, more men were alleged to have broken their marriage contract than women, and while five men sought separation in January, but three men filed suit for divorce, in that month.

Only two petitions for divorce have been filed in March.

JEANNE EAGLES IS
ILL IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, March 9.—Miss Jeanne Eagles, star in "Rain," now playing here, who quit the company Saturday because of illness, was still at the Hollenden Hotel here today. She refused to allow visitors, but her manager again denied reports that she was to marry E. H. "Ted" Coy, former Yale football star. It was said Miss Eagles would go to Washington today to consult her family physician and perhaps undergo an operation for digestive trouble.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY IS DEAD

Dr. W. R. Sayres, 71, Sidney, Ohio, former resident of New Burlington, died at his home Friday morning of heart trouble, according to word received by relatives in Greene County. Dr. Sayres was born and reared in Greene County and has been a practicing chiropractor in Sidney for more than twelve years.

He is survived by his widow and one child, of Sidney, one niece, Lottie Sayres, and one nephew, William Sayres, both of New Burlington. Funeral services were held at the home in Sidney, Sunday afternoon.

DEAD HAND AT WHEEL
OF CAREENING AUTO;
PASSENGER SWOONS

Building Stops Flight Of
Uncontrolled Car In
Cleveland Traffic

Cleveland, O., March 9.—Horror-stricken, Miss Margaret Ogelsby, sat in the front seat of an auto as it careened down Detroit Road with a dead man at the wheel today.

While she clung to her seat and screamed, the auto plunged over a curb, climbed a bank and struck a building, knocking a corner from it. Clutching at the wheel, the girl swerved the machine back into the road and it careened across onto the opposite curb and stopped with a crash as it struck another building.

Miss Ogelsby had fainted when she was found. Her uncle, C. L. Linehan, 50, was lying prostrate over the wheel. He had died of heart disease. The girl told hospital authorities she was returning home with her uncle when she noticed the auto swinging from side to side.

She noticed the man had slumped over the wheel and believed him asleep. When she tapped him on the shoulder to awaken him, the auto swerved into the first building.

VESSEL DAMAGED
IN FOG ACCIDENT

New York, March 9.—Her number two hold stove in and filled with water, following a collision with the shipping board tanker Dannedaika, off Nantucket last night, the Dutch freight Aalsum, was slowly proceeding to New York today under her own power, according to the naval communications office. The crash occurred in a heavy fog last night, about twenty-five miles south of Nantucket. The tanker was damaged only slightly. Shortly after the collision, Captain Huff, of the Aalsum sent out an "sos" saying his boat was leaking badly.

All radio broadcasting along the North Atlantic seaboard was ordered halted to give clear transmission to the "sos" calls.

IBANEZ ORDERED TO
SPAIN FOR TRIAL

Madrid, March 9.—Blasco Ibanez, famous author, was ordered by the Spanish government today to return to Madrid to stand trial on charges of lese majeste, attacking the form of government and with inciting the populace to rebellion.

Ibanez at present is in France. He has carried on an active propaganda against King Alphonso and the present monarchistic government.

DESERTER DIES BY
GAS POISONING

Huntington, W. V., March 9.—Death, due to monoxide gas poisoning, was the coroner's verdict today in the case of Norvall Leason, alias Walter Leason, 31, alleged deserter from the United States army, whose body was found in a rooming house here.

A bottle of poison, found on the bed, led to a suicide theory at first but after a thorough investigation today the coroner rendered the gas death verdict.

New York To Be Nation's
Battle Field In Great War
Between Booze And Dries

Western Attorney To
Lead Enforcements In Fight Now.

New York, March 9.—New York is to become the nation's battlefield—an Armageddon, in the great war between booze and law enforcement, it was indicated today by U. S. Attorney Emory R. Buckner, transplanted mid-westerner, whose legal earthquake rocked the bootleg universe when he began padlock proceedings against fourteen of New York's most exclusive night clubs and cafes.

"I expect the padlock provision of the liquor law to be carried to U. S. supreme court," said Buckner. "Padlock cases to date have been carried to the circuit court of appeals."

Undaunted by the legal threat which was said to have traveled to the federal building "down town" from the roistering forties, uptown, Buckner continues preparations to begin proceedings to padlock places selling liquor in New York.

"Who is Buckner?" patrons of the night clubs are asking. Buckner is a lawyer who knows his weapons. He is a short stocky blue eyed man with iron-gray hair and an aggressive personality. His father was a minister of the gospel, a Methodist circuit rider, who carried "the Word" over the far flung prairies. It was not an unusual thing for the Buckner family to be living in Iowa, Nebraska and Oklahoma all within a few months. Buckner's father is now a minister in Chamberlain, N. D. As a boy Emory worked very hard when he was young and won his way to national eminence through sacrifice and diligence.

"The day I was sworn into office, I swore off taking an occasional drink," Buckner said. "I do not drink and my staff does not drink."

"I am not a crusader. The law against liquor is explicit. I was appointed to enforce the law. I am going to enforce the law."

Columbus, O., March 9.—All evidence obtained by state authorities relative to the Summit County liquor scandal is to be presented immediately to the United States grand jury now sitting at Cleveland.

State prohibition Commissioner McDonald was directed by Governor Donahy today to go to Cleveland this afternoon and submit to United States District Attorney Bernstein all information secured by the governor and the state prohibition enforcement department relative to charges that federal dry laws were violated in Summit county.

It is understood Bernstein will turn this information over to the federal jury at once.

MAY RE-OPEN OLD
CASES RESULT OF
DENNISTOUN CASE

Disclosed Friends of Sir John
Cowan Attempted To
Forestall Suit

London, March 9.—Reopening of cases considered closed and introduction of the name of a woman of high social standing were discussed today as society awaited the resumption tomorrow of the suit brought by Mrs. Dorothy Dennistoun against Colonel Ian Dennistoun, now the husband of Dowager Countess Carnarvon.

One effect of the suit, according to report, would be a new investigation into a wartime military case in which a Lieutenant Barrett was removed from the service because he was said to have made himself offensive to a woman of high position.

Another angle in which society interested itself was the question of the introduction in the present trial of the name of a society woman who considered herself friendly with Sir John Cowans, the "general X" of the Dennistoun suit.

Disclosures of the present suit have been a considerable surprise to her. Cowans' friends, it was learned, had the greatest efforts to prevent the present case coming to trial. They were frustrated although it is reported they even offered to pay the sum for which Mrs. Dennistoun is suing.

REMOVAL OF M'COOK
FIELD WILL START
MAY 1, ANNOUNCED

The first actual work of transforming Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield, now one of the air service's largest supply depots, into the largest air dome in the country, will begin about May 1, officials announced Saturday.

The field will be a joint experimental station for the army air service and a supply depot, it is planned. McCook field is to occupy the site east of Dayton, consisting of 5,000 acres, donated to the government by Daytonians as the base for its wholesale experimental work.

It was planned by some service officials months ago, to remove Wright Field to Middletown, Pa., leaving the entire field open to the work of the engineering division.

This plan was blocked for at least a year, when citizens of Osborn enlisted the support of a number of congressmen in their effort to keep the supply depot in Greene County. Since nothing definite has been said as to the removal of the field later on, when the construction work begins May 1, it must be with the joint field in view.

Recent congressional action gave an appropriation of $500,000 for the purpose of laying streets and roadways, establishing sewers, building foundations and similar work as the preliminary movement toward the re-establishment of the field on the site.

A representative of the construction quartermaster's office at Washington is expected in Dayton soon, to pass upon the plans for this work, which have been prepared several weeks.

WANT APPROVAL OF
COMMITTEES MINUS
INSURGENT NAMES

Democrats Pledged To Support
Effort To Oust
Independents.

Washington, March 9.—Administration leaders launched a drive today for ratification of their order expelling the LaFollette insurgent bloc from the Republican ranks of the senate.

The issue was brought squarely before the senate when Republican leaders called up their list of committee assignments for confirmation. On this list, Senators LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin and Ladd, Republican of North Dakota, were deprived of committee chairmanships and along with Senators Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, and Frazier, Republican of North Dakota, barred from their old seniority rights and Republican privileges.

The attitude of Democratic senators who pledged "neutrality" in the fight, defeated all hope that the insurgents might overturn the order by a vote of the senate. Led by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, minority leader, the Democrats were pledged to the administration's slate, which in effect was an endorsement of the expulsion order. The minority, however, made no effort to punish their own recalcitrant, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who bolted his party to run with Senator LaFollette last November.

Opposition to the punishment rose solely from the insurgent victims and a handful of independent Republicans led by Senator Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska. Borah informed his colleagues that they would live to regret their action and that the ouster proceedings would defeat many Republican senators of the west when they came up for re-election in 1926. He charged the insurgents truly represented their own Republican constituencies.

With the insurgent row ended, the administration faced an even greater task in the senate in their efforts to obtain confirmation of the appointment of Charles B. Warren as Attorney general. Bitter opposition to the appointment has developed among progressive senators of both major parties. On two test votes the administration was defeated but Republican leaders continued to predict the nomination will be confirmed when a final vote is taken.

Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, and Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, were leaders in the fight against Warren. Walsh charged his confirmation would result in suspension of the Sherman anti-trust law during the remainder of the Coolidge administration because of Warren's alleged connection with the sugar interests.

Washington, March 9.—The air service row came to the senate for the first time today.

Secretary of War Weeks appeared before the military affairs committee to testify as to the record and character of Colonel James E. Fechet, appointed to succeed Brigadier General William Mitchell, as assistant chief of army air service.

HELD FOR FATALLY
SHOOTING SISTER

Akron, O., March 9.—Henry Sims was arrested early this morning on a charge of fatally shooting his sister, Lola, 23. The killing took place at the Sims home during a free for all fight, after an all night party.

Sims, who fled, was arrested within fifteen minutes after police learned of the affray. Other members of the family and guests at the party have been detained for questioning.

MILLIONS LOST IN TAXES BY U. S.
FROM STEEL AND ALUMINUM FIRMS

Evidence Introduced Before Senate Committee Shows Excessive
Amortization Allowances Cost Government Heavily—
Mellon Stockholder Of Company Benefitted

Washington, March 9.—Evidence designed to show that the government lost millions of dollars in taxes from the United States Steel Corporation and the Aluminum Company of America through excessive amortization allowance has been laid before the special senate committee investigating the bureau of internal revenue the committee's records disclosed today.

Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, Andrew Mellon is a heavy stockholder of the Aluminum Company.

L. C. Manson, counsel for the committee declared that the steel corporation was allowed an amortization over the allowance of $27,926,014, and the aluminum company at least $6,500,000.

Taxes collected from a corporation by the government decrease as amortization allowances increase.

"The amount of amortization granted by the U. S. Steel Corporation was $83,482,961," declared Manson. "The amortization allowed by the bureau of internal revenue was $55,063,312. The amount considered proper by your counsel and the engineers (the committee's) is $27,138,987."

"The over allowance was $27,926,014. The tax difference was $21,438,313."

GOVERNMENT SEEKS
TO REGAIN TRACT OF
WYOMING ACREAGE

Pomerent Heads Counsel
For U. S. as Teapot
Dome Revived.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 9.—The widely heralded "battle of Teapot Dome," opened in federal district court here today, amid surroundings unprecedented in Wyoming court.

The battle was being staged in that form of an equity case in which the United States government seeks to recover a 3,000 acre tract of naval oil lands in Wyoming, which it charges, was leased by former secretary of the interior, Albert B. Fall, to Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil Company under circumstances involving bribery and fraud.

The government was represented by a battery of half a dozen lawyers, headed by former Senator Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, while Sinclair's legal staff includes more than a dozen "high pressure" lawyers with Martin W. Littleton of New York, leading the defense fight.

Frught with charges by the government of fraud, collusion and conspiracy, the hearing promises to disclose exhaustive testimony, orally and by deposition that will name many persons prominent in public life and others intimately connected with the great petroleum industry of the country.

Government counsel announced today that the opening statement of their case by Senator Pomerene would be comparatively brief. Chief Counsel Littleton countered with the statement that in that event, the cases would be on the stand before noon recess.

Littleton, just prior to opening of the hearing indicated the defense would only mildly object to presentation of depositions or testimony regarding transactions of the trading company. He emphatically declared, however that Sinclair had no connection with, or knowledge of these transactions. Senator Pomerene would not confirm reports that the government had a "surprise witness," who would testify Sinclair's participation in an organization meeting prior to the formation of the trading company. It is testimony along this line that government counsel desired from Blackmer and O'Neill and O'Neil.

Evidence pertaining to alleged secrecy in conducting the negotiations for Teapot Dome will be submitted, it was indicated, including the executive order of the late President Harding transferring the naval oil lands from the navy to the interior department.

Former Secretary Fall had not arrived today and it was expected it would be late in the week before he took the stand.

Speculation was rife as to his attitude, but in view of his refusal to testify previously, it is expected he will decline again, on constitutional grounds.

E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, arrived here yesterday and will be the first witness for the government.

Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy will preside at the hearing, which is expected to cover a period of two or three weeks.

Washington, March 9.—Nomination of Lieut. Col. James E. Fechet, as assistant chief of army air service, succeeding Brigadier General William Mitchell, was approved today by the Senate military affairs committee.

Approval was given after Secretary of War Weeks in secret session reviewed Fechet's air record.

No objection arose to the nomination, said Senator Wadsworth, Republican of New York, committee chairman.

East Liverpool, O., March 9.—Stricken by heart disease, Mrs. Mary Ikirt, 72, wife of former Congressman George P. Ikirt, died here today. She was well known among Ohio club women.

Repudiating the amazing crime confession of Herbert Wilson, ex-minister, "master criminal" and Sap Queen, "lifer" a jury in Los Angeles, Calif., acquitted Jack Elrick, nationally known sporting man; Joe Bertsche, promoter and Frank Wilson, brother of Herbert Wilson, Saturday, following their trial in connection with the $2,000,000 mail robbery in Los Angeles, March 2, 1921.

The trial was of local interest since several Greene Countians were subpoenaed to give testimony in the case. The mail robbery in the West was supposed to be connected with that which occurred in Cincinnati four years ago, when school bonds, being sent from Jamestown to Cincinnati, were among the loot stolen by mail bandits.

The bonds had been sent from Cincinnati to Cedarville, but were misdirected to Bowersville and while en route, from Bowersville back to Cincinnati were stolen. Six Greene Countians, who handled the bonds, were called to testify in the trial in Los Angeles, but the subpoenas were later cancelled. The reason for the cancellation of the subpoenas was not learned locally, but it is thought that Wilson's confession and the new trend of the trial changed the case.

The verdict of the jury supported the contention of defense counsel that Wilson made his amazing crime confession implicating the other three men in order to gain freedom.

Washington, March 9.—Evidence designed to show that the government lost millions of dollars in taxes from the United States Steel Corporation and the Aluminum Company of America through excessive amortization allowance has been laid before the special senate committee investigating the bureau of internal revenue the committee's records disclosed today.

L. C. Manson, counsel for the committee declared that the steel corporation was allowed an amortization over the allowance of $27,926,014, and the aluminum company at least $6,500,000.

PACE A DEAD HEAT

The Grim Reaper and the stork evened their score in Greene County during February. While births led in Greene County during the month, deaths held the lead in Xenia City.

There were thirteen births and nineteen deaths in Xenia City, during February, according to Dr. A. D. De Haven, city health commissioner. Of the births eleven were male and two female. Twelve were white and one colored.

Of the number of deaths, eleven were male and eight, female and eleven white and eight colored.

Twenty-six births were reported to Dr. R. H. Grube, county health commissioner, in Greene County, outside of Xenia City, during the month.

Eighteen deaths were registered with Dr. Grube for the month, in the county.

A. N. SMITH FOUND DEAD SATURDAY AT HOME IN JAMESTOWN

A. N. Smith, 72, well known retired farmer was found dead in his home on Washington Street, Jamestown, Saturday afternoon. He had been dead about two days, according to Dr. R. L. Haines, county coroner who investigated.

It is thought that he suffered a heart attack while preparing to retire Wednesday night. The body was partially clothed and was lying on the bed when found by Mr. Smith's son-in-law, William H. Martin, of near Jamestown, Saturday.

Mr. Smith had gone to Mr. Smith's home because relatives or neighbors had not seen the man since Wednesday. He appeared to be ill at that time.

Mr. Smith's wife died ten years ago. He formerly operated a farm near Jamestown and moved to the village after retiring from active farm life. He was familiarly known as "Newt" Smith.

A daughter, Mrs. William H. Martin is the only close relative surviving. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Martin home with interment in Jamestown Cemetery.

PATRONS OF POSTAL SERVICE MUST KNOW NEW MAILING RATES

Attention of patrons of the postal services has been called by Postmaster C. S. Frazer, concerning the recent postal act embodying increased rates of postage affecting post cards and mail of the third and fourth classes, effective April 15.

"It is important that patrons familiarize themselves with the new changes as provided by the act in order to pay the proper postage on mail," declared Postmaster Frazer. "Failure to do this will cause confusion, delay, and inconvenience to the mailers."

The new rate on postcards is two cents. The new third class mail embraces all matter now included in the third and fourth classes up to and including eight ounces in weight, while the new fourth class matter will include all mail formerly in the third and fourth class more than eight ounces in weight.

An increase of two cents has also been provided in the act for money orders. Beginning with orders not exceeding $2.50, the rate will be five cents instead of three cents, and correspondingly up to a $100 money order with a twenty-two cent rate.

TRAINING CAMPS' POPULARITY SHOWS INCREASE THIS YEAR

Popularity of Citizens' Military Training Camps is evidenced by the fact that 1,500 applications from former graduates have been received at Fifth Corps Area headquarters, at Columbus, since the 1925 campaign, got officially under way March 1, it is said.

The Greene County campaign was formally opened at the same time when chairmen appointed in the county to conduct the campaign locally received supplies of blank applications.

A "Bring a Buddy" movement, inaugurated among the candidates last year, is expected to be of material assistance in bringing the campaign to a successful close, with the full quota enrolled by June 1. To stimulate interest in the drive, medals will be awarded to the young men enrolling the greatest number of friends in each county, as well as state- and corps area.

Age limits for the beginners course are between 17 and 24, and all applicants must pass a physical examination and submit a certificate of good moral character.

Although the government pays all expenses including transportation to and from camps, the candidate is placed under no obligation to the army.

Greene Countians will go to Camp Knox, Ky., this year. The training period is held in July.

GIVE SHICK TEST

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Adv.

JUVENILE JUDGE IN FAVOR OF PARK

"I am heartily in favor of the park proposition," Judge S. C. Wright, head of the probate and juvenile branches of the Greene County courts made this statement today.

Judge Wright's court is really the domestic relations court of Xenia and Greene County. Before him daily are the problems of the delinquent child, the neglected child, the misundestood child. The problems as well, of the parents of those three.

He says this: "A park such as proposed by the Xenia Recreation Association would provide a splendid outlet for the superfluous energies of the child and his elders."

"It would be conducive to the welfare of the public in general. Properly supervised, as I understand it will be, such a park would be an asset to Xenia."

"It would, too, provide a beauty spot, where at the close of a hot summer day, the family without its own home lawn could spend a few cool, happy hours."

"I believe the park should be built. I want to see the drive succeed."

FOUR TEAMS ARE TO MEET IN TOURNNEY ROUND NEXT FRIDAY

St. Xaviers and Norwood, Cincinnati teams, Stivers, of Dayton, and Springfield High School, will meet in the semi-finals of the Southwestern Ohio Regional Basketball tournament next Friday at the Fairground coliseum in Dayton. These four teams earned the right by winning their first and second round games Saturday in Dayton.

Stivers won from Roosevelt in the first round by a score of 19 to 11 and defeated Steel High in the second round by a 33 to 12 count. Steele had entered the second round by eliminating Urbana 29 to 21.

In the upper bracket with Stivers, Norwood beat Troy in the first round 25 to 18 and entered the semi-finals by defeating Sidney 42 to 6. Sidney had previously drawn the only bye in the first round.

In the lower bracket, St. Xaviers won from Middletown 19 to 17 and defeated the U. of D. Preps 15 to 11. Springfield won from Hamilton 22 to 18 and beat Greenville 32 to 9. Greenville won its first round game from Piqua 19 to 13.

Xenia Central High School lost its opening game to the Dayton Preps 25 to 20.

In the semi-finals Norwood will play Stivers, while Springfield will have St. Xaviers to play.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Earning power, not book value, is the determining factor in judging what a stock is worth.

Book value can not be used as a measure of valuing the market price of a stock. The question then arises what can be used?

The common stock of the United States Steel Corporation sells at about 25 per cent of its book value. Woolworth stock, on the other hand, is commonly found in the market, at 300 per cent of its book value. Yet the market price of both stocks range between 5 and nine times their respective earnings per share.

The book value of the stocks has no relation to the market price, and both stocks correspond to a certain general earning ratio.

Consequently, in determining the market value of any stock, the most important factor to consider is earning power.

EAVEY APPOINTED HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Herman Eavey, president of the Greene County Board of Commissioners received notice Monday of his appointment as chairman of the executive committee of the Ohio State County Commissioners Association, for the ensuing year.

Election of officers was held at the recent meeting of the association in

HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUBS WILL STAGE NEW MUSICAL COMEDY

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs of Central High School under the direction of Miss Harriet McCarty, director of music in the public schools are presenting a musical comedy "Once In A Blue Moon" at the Jean B. Elwell Auditorium at Central High School Tuesday evening March 17.

The production promises to surpass those of previous years inasmuch as the combining of the various voices and the type of the performance will be more appealing to the public. The musical comedy that has been selected is of a modern atmosphere and assures many hearty laughs. In its lines. Besides all these qualities it is a production that has been but recently, published and its presentation in other schools of various states has met with success.

The cast includes sixty mixed voices and under Miss McCarty's direction has worked out the fine points in the musical selections. The cast will be announced later. A well filled house is expected to greet the production. Tickets are now on sale.

AN INEXPLICABLE ATTITUDE

WHEN the United States granted suffrage to women it was given on exactly the same conditions as enjoyed by men. We imagine there would have been a lovely row had it been proposed that only those women who had attained 30 years of age could exercise the right, while men nine years their juniors were privileged to cast their ballots. Why Great Britain imposed such restrictions as these on the women at the start may not be so puzzling as the reasons they persist in that course despite the efforts in Parliament to place women on an equal footing with men as to voting. Recently the government suppressed a measure to extend to women the age conditions that rule in the case of males.

Notwithstanding the existence of restrictions, Great Britain has gone further in elevating women to seats in Parliament than have we with no discrimination against the sex in regard to votes. This disposition of the British electors to choose women may be one reason for the opposition to lowering the age limit. Women outnumber men in England and were they placed on an equal footing in suffrage perhaps they would take things in their own hands and run away with them. If that is the fear of the government it does no credit to the British sporting instinct, though it might explain the position taken.

It is a general assumption that women mature at an earlier age than men. If this be true, British women would seem to be qualified for suffrage at as early an age as men or not at all. It being conceded that they are qualified at 30 years disposes of the last proposition. Then, why not at 21?

WOULD BE PERILOUS CONCESSION

NOT long ago a French woman slew a friend who suffered from an allegedly incurable and painful disease. At the trial the defense was set up that the act was one of mercy and justified under the circumstances. The woman was acquitted by a jury. The precedent thus established led to another similar case, also in France. More recently in Iowa a former army officer took the lives of both his parents because, as he explained, they were incurably ill and subject to great suffering. Since the perpetrator of these homicides removed himself at the same time, no judicial judgment was passed on the case.

Euthanasia has been advocated as not only justifiable but fully warranted in extreme cases. However much the victim might desire to be relieved of suffering through death, at the same time it would be highly perilous to concede to another the right to hasten the work of nature. What might be claimed as a deed of mercy might in fact be taken as a measure of relief from the care of the patient. Were such voluntary acts of euthanasia condoned, they would open ways to great abuses on the plea of dispensing mercy to the pain-wracked. Whether under any circumstances a physician would be justified in assisting in hastening the death of a patient might be argued on somewhat different grounds, but it is not likely that even that authority would be admitted by many.

Sane human nature revolts at any step which savors of taking human life. In cases of those near and dear to us we cling to them as long as life lasts, though we may at the same time rejoice that their pain has ceased since death was inevitable and the only source of relief. It is a matter of grave doubt whether the point will ever be reached where society will concede the right of hastening death as an act of mercy, though juries may adjudge not guilty those who may usurp the authority.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

ON NARROWNESS

I do not care for pumpkin pie,
I cannot tell the reason why.
But I've no fancy for that sweet
Which countless friends with relish eat.

In taste we differ, I confess,
But still I like them none the less.

Then there is alligator pear,
A fruit for which I do not care.
Yet many faithful friends of mine
Think it a food supremely fine.

They praise what I condemn as flat,
But I don't call them names for that.

Some men I know wear colored spats,

Gay vests and most unusual hats,
Things which no clerk could sell to me.

However glib he chanced to be;
But 'spite of that I don't declare
I only know what's right to wear.

I do not claim to be all-wise
In such a simple choice as pies,
Or hold that nothing good can be
If it by chance displeases me;

Among the friends I proudly name
No two of them are just the same.

Why should religion raise a bar?
In every temple good men are,
And I have gathered friendships true
From every creed and every pew;

And I'll thank any church which Lends
A real addition to my friends.

Famous Old Recipe

for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home,

but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts

a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loos-ens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway

pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded.

NEW FRIENDS

I have often wondered why it is that as we grow older new friends grow less attractive to us and old friends more luminous.

I recently read in a happy little book the statement that "there comes a time when new friends become impossible." At first I didn't agree, then the more I thought about it the more plausible the statement became.

It is good to have many friends, but I meet few who can boast of but few.

The fact remains that our likes age with our bodies, though our minds round out, mellow and grow more tolerant.

Yet even in this condition we have an increasing love for the chosen few who have watered the garden of our dearest desires and made calm and peaceful the walks of our everyday.

How beautiful to arrive at that age of friendship when the most ordinary and matter of fact occurrences, or indeed, remarks find a happy bending with those of our friends.

Real friends are never on dress parade.

We always see capacity and worth in our old friends. That is one reason why we can be very ordinary and commonplace and natural with them. They understand. No explanations, no excuses, or apologies are necessary or desired.

How the eyes brighten at the remark: "An old friend of mine!"

The journey to a real friend is a long, long one. And there is time for but a very few of these journeys during the short span of a life time. So all the more reason for making each journey one of happiness with roses scattered all along the way—especially in the out of the way and least expected places.

What a sweet and comforting thing friendship is anyway!

FOGWELL IS OFTEN IN MONEY AT RACE MEETS IN FLORIDA

Ed Fogwell and his son, who have been wintering at a harness racing stable at Orlando, Fla., again come in for mention by E. L. Churchill sport scribe as follows:

The woods are full of 2:08 and slower trotters, ones that are very highly regarded, and the big money should appeal to them. Ed Fogwell and his son, Osborn, who have been wintering a stable of horses at the Orlando, Fla., track, were sure of the limelight at the recent fair at that point.

"With Al Bingen 2:07, Fogwell pulled down first money in the free-for-all pace, with his other pacer, Al Jennings, 2:14 1-4, took second money, driven by Fogwell, Jr. Helen Marque and The Specimen, two of Fogwell's good trotters, were money winners during the week. It is said that most of the horses now in training at Orlando will be moved to the Memphis, Tenn., track some time during this month."

ATHLETIC CLUB IS FORMED IN XENIA TO PUT TEAMS IN FIELD

An athletic club, to be known as Tilton's Athletic Club, was formed with twenty-five members enrolled at a meeting at F. E. Tilton's Clothing Store Sunday afternoon.

The activities of the club the year around will embrace practically every form of sport including baseball, football, fishing, basketball and tennis.

Election of officers Sunday resulted in the following being installed: Anell Stephens, president; Roy Bales, first vice-president; Dr. Wilbur Zell, second vice-president; Philip Buck, secretary-treasurer and F. E. Tilton, business manager.

A football team has already been organized, and a baseball team will be formed at the next meeting Sunday at the clothing store to which all those interested in sports are invited.

The organization unanimously decided on blue and gold for the colors of the club with emblem in the form of a triangle. Inscribed in the triangle will be the letters T. A. C.

No definite plans have been laid but it was considered likely that club rooms will be provided in the near future for members.

Ohio State won the Western Conference basketball crown Saturday evening when it defeated Indiana by a 28 to 26 score in a thrilling encounter. The Buckeyes have now ten wins and one loss for a .909 percentage. Illinois is second with eight victories and three defeats. Coach Olsen's lads have one more game to play this being with Wisconsin on Saturday at Columbus. This will also be the last game that Cameron, Miner, Shaw and Matusewicz will play for the Scarlet and Grey school.

Mt. Union won the Ohio Conference basketball championship by beating Wooster 31 to 17. It was the Mounts' eleventh straight conference victory. Mount Union also won the crown last season scoring ten straight wins. It seems as though Mt. Union had rather an easy schedule playing tallenders.

Fans who attended the Southwestern Regional Ohio tourney conducted at Dayton last Saturday witnessed some mighty good games. One of the best games of the tourney was the Stivers-Roosevelt contest, which was won by the former team 19 to 11. The Middletown and St. Xavier frocks was another hummer while Springfield and Hamilton put up a battle royal. Norwood High of Cincinnati, Stivers of Dayton, St. Xavier of Cincinnati and Springfield High survived after the first two rounds of play. Norwood will meet Stivers next Friday at the Fairgrounds while Springfield will take on St. Xavier the two winners will go to Columbus on March 20 and 21. They will also meet on March 14 at 8 o'clock to decide which are the champs of southwestern Ohio.

Central's defeat by the Preps came as a surprise to many of its followers. They played terrible ball excepting at the start of the game. Huston started the scoring with a fielder and Perrine found the net three times from the field a few minutes later. With a 10 to 5 lead they blew up and let the Preps catch them and the result was they were on the short end of the score at the end of 30 minutes of play.

Stivers of Dayton seems to be the chief contender for the southwestern crown and also the state title. The Orange clad athletes have a nifty court combination. Ramby and Egan are the offensive stars. Cox, the lanky guard, is a demon at taking the ball off the banking board. Stivers will lose all its regulars but Evans. Steele also of Dayton has a fine court team that has plenty of beef. Bevan will lose all of his team excepting Matusewicz. Roosevelt will probably make things tough for the above named teams next season as but one man will be lost by graduation. This means that Bollechno, Otey, Baker and Bartholomew will be back again with the Teddies.

Many visit style show at store here. An event for women who follow the fashions took place at Jobe Brothers Company, Friday, when a style show for large and tall women was held, and the large attraction of the show was evidenced by the several hundred women that filled the store between the hours of 10:30 and 2:30 o'clock.

The latest fashions, fabrics and colors were displayed on living models during the show. All the advance summer fashions were shown and the patrons of the show obtained many interesting ideas in dresses and frocks.

Bowling

The Xenia Arcade bowling match team, traveled to Dayton Sunday afternoon and lost to a Gem City five two games out of three although bowling a fine 2,664 total. The Arcade five lost the first clash by one pin.

Priller and Kelley practically beat the locals singlehanded, the former getting a splendid 620 total while the latter missed the 600 mark by one pin. Frame and Jeffries were best for Xenia. Box score:

Xenia
Regan	170	139	172
Whittington	177	136	171
Frame	222	155	202

HEADQUARTERS FOR PARK CAMPAIGN ARE OPENED AT CITY HALL

Activities in connection with the campaign of the Xenia Recreation Association to raise $10,000 to finance the proposed city park in the Dodds Addition, officially started Monday morning when campaign headquarters were opened in the engineers' room, City Hall, Main and Detroit Streets.

Miss Janice Owens, formerly secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was placed in charge of the headquarters Monday and began the preliminary work toward lining up solicitors for a one-day drive. The date for this concentrated effort to reach a full subscription has not been set, but will be next week.

More detailed plans for the financial campaign will be outlined at a special meeting of a group of members of the financial committee of the office of City Auditor T. H. Zell, who is directing the campaign, Monday evening. In the meantime the preliminary work will include a program of education in order to have the general public advised of the plans for the park, and the organization of workers who will carry the drive to a successful conclusion.

The general financial committee is being augmented daily by the addition of new names, and the appointed committee will be announced soon. The association proposed to beautify and establish park features on a ten-acre tract in the Dodds Addition donated to the association by P. H. Flynn. The plans are expected to result ultimately in Xenia's first park.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS TO MEET IN DAYTON

Girls' Glee Clubs of several Ohio colleges, including Western Reserve, Denison, Wesleyan, Wittenberg, Miami and Cincinnati, are meeting in Dayton, March 20, and will give a concert at the Y. W. C. A. that night. Any one in Xenia who is interested in attending the concert may obtain tickets from Mrs. Karl Babb, East Second Street. The price will be fifty cents and the tickets will be on sale after Saturday. Judges will give prizes to the group of singers giving the best program of the evening.

CENTRAL LOSES TO DAYTON PREPS IN REGIONAL TOURNEY

The University of Dayton Preps eliminated Central High School from the Southwestern Ohio Regional Basketball tournament in the first round at the fairground coliseum in Dayton Saturday afternoon when it defeated the locals by a score of 25 to 20.

Central played miserable ball throughout the game with the exception of the first few minutes of play. Captain Perrine played best for the locals scoring eight points followed by Buell and Huston with five each.

The lineup and summary of the Central game.

SILVERCREEK TWP. FARM BUREAU WILL HOLD RALLY MARCH 11

Wednesday, March 11, has been set aside by the Silvercreek Township Farm Bureau for a rally to be held at the Grange Hall, Jamestown.

The affair will begin promptly at 6:30 with a covered dish dinner. A program has been arranged by the committee in charge that will consist of addresses, musical selections and a general discussion of farm work.

The Rev. L. L. Gray, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of Jamestown will deliver a short talk and E. C. Anstaeft of the State Department of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, who has been cooperating with local members in staging a drive for membership will also address the members.

A reading by Wilford Welmer and musical selections by a quartette and the Georgetown Orchestra under the leadership of Guy Turner will intersperse the program. A male quartette, composed of J. F. Gordon, E. W. Ballard, Harold Lewis and Mr. Elliott will also render several vocal selections.

All members are urged to be present and bring a covered dish and sandwiches.

SMALL FIRE LOSS

A small fire at the residence of Frank Lucas, 50 Center Avenue at 6:40 o'clock Sunday night caused damage, estimated at $20. The blaze originated when a gas stand lamp was placed too near an open window, the lace curtains catching fire which in turn ignited a blind. The fire was extinguished with water before firemen arrived.

MODISH MITZI—How Is A Mere Man To Know?

"What are they anyway, Mitzi? These prints 'that are rapidly growing in popular favor?' asks Dad quoting from a news item he thinks will interest Mitzi. 'You are looking at one now,' replies Mitzi. Dad is of course, though he has to be told that the patterned fabric, like the top part of Mitzi's dress, is printed material."

But the styles for prints don't stop with dress fabrics. That's where this gay new style really begins. The latest addition to the season's mode is printed gloves. Sometimes they are printed in Persian designs, on suede or fabric. A stunning fashion one can hold in the palm of one's hand as it were."

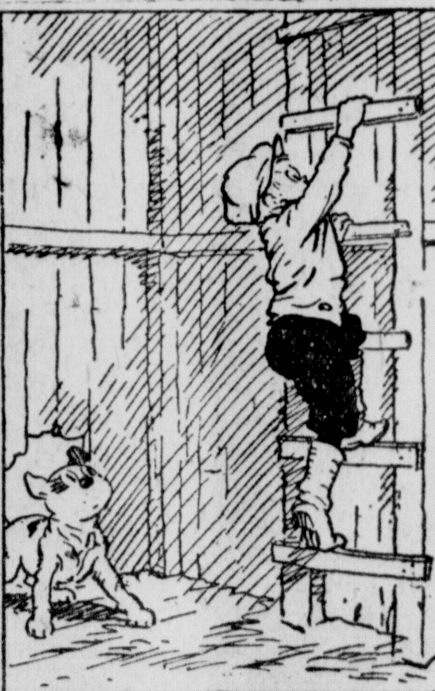

The use of printed fabrics is not confined. A touch of printed material can be introduced in any costume. Polly is debating about these new slippers combining patent leather with printed heels and quarter. One thing Polly is sure of these are the gayest, brightest prints that ever walked in a fashionable world."

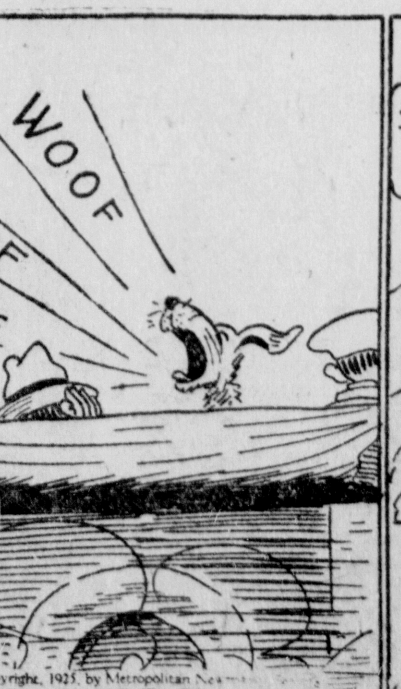

"Aren't they ducky?" asks Polly of Mitzi. One handkerchief is of printed linen and the other of printed voile. Any color to match anything. "They are striking" agrees Mitzi. "Almost as striking as my scarf." And who would contradict her."

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

Well, one never knows what is going to happen, does one? Today I have quite a surprise for you, as David remarked to Gollath. I have a man who is interested in Abigail Smearcase. Read his letter.

Cotton Run, O.
March 9, 1925.

Dear Brother Sauer:
I rite these words in anser to the purty gurl at Jamestown who wants a man. I wuz born in Jamestown in an early part of my infancy. As soop as I wuz big enuf to know what I wuz doin I moved here. I ain't got no body much an nobody kered for me.

I am thirty years old and have a shot gun, a bicycle, three hens and a safety razor, all of which worldly goods I will gladly endow on Abigail.

Sum gurls are ciphers with bobbed heds that look like fiber brooms what you sweep off floors with. And when it cums to lovin their husban they have hearts about as big as good sized carbuncles. Guys what many such kind don't have no more home sweet home than jackrabbit.

Abigail would make me a good wife, I know. And she would not find her ticket stamped one way either. She could have my bicycle to go places on. All she would have to do would be to cook three squares, chop the wud, wash my duds, set the sponge and tend to her bizness, I wud expect to be boss and do as I please.

I wud join the Hammer club and we wud be in society. When I think up her my heart gets bigger than a box car. Tell her to rite.
Ez Ever, Longfellow Smallop

P. E.—My first name is Longfellow, but they call me Long for short.

ITS A GLAND TIME

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands,
The smith, a mighty man is he—
He's fixed with monkey glands.

If you're broke and can't pay your rent, perhaps the landlord will help you out. Better see some of the real estate dealers who are advertising on this page every day. They'll sell you a home and you can buy it as easily as you are paying rent. See one of them.

OMIGOSH!

A Dayton pike lady named Tile,
Went walking one night with her Willie;
Said he to her: "Sweetest,
Oh, when did thou eatest
That hot dog with onion and chile?"

Talk of the town! All over Xenia we hear favorable comment on this page. Dozens of advertisers are reporting splendid results. Try an ad tomorrow. Call 111.

TRACTION COMPANY LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

Lee H. Kearns, 1637 Weaver Street, Dayton, was awarded $2,000 damages by a jury in his suit against Otto Kuhn, Dayton moving van and storage proprietor, Harry E. Tolbert, bus line owner, and the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Traction Company, in Dayton, Saturday. Kearns was awarded the $2,000 damages against the traction company and Tolbert, while Kuhn was dismissed as a party defendant. Damages were sought as the result of an accident, November 12, 1922, when Kearns, a bus passenger, was injured in a crash of the bus with a moving van and a traction car on Yyoming Street.

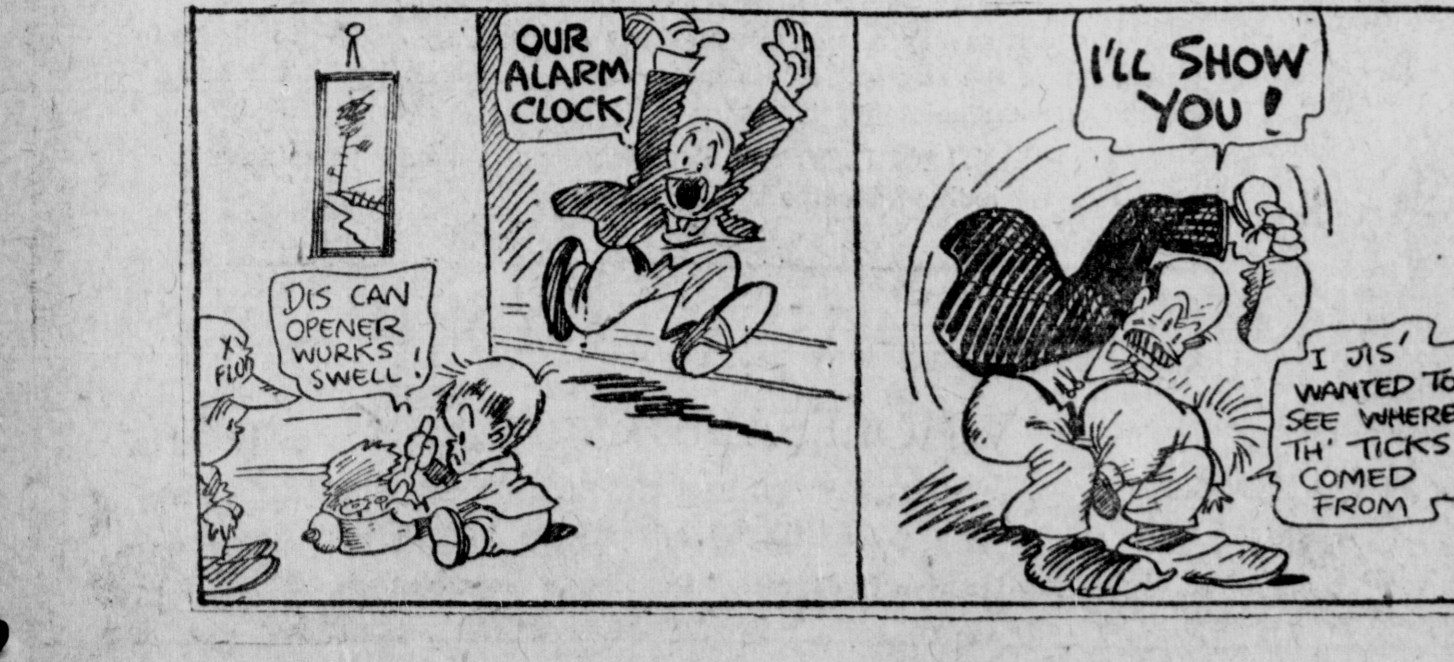

FARM BUREAU RALLY AT CAESARCREEK TO BE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Caesarcreek Township Rally of the Greene County Farm Bureau will be held Wednesday evening, March 11, at 7:30 at the K. of P. Hall, Paintersville. A program has been arranged that will prove beneficial to the members of the bureau, and speakers for the evening have been obtained who will address the members along lines of interest to farmers. The main feature of the program will be an address on "Community Obligations" by W. R. Lewis, Wilmington, district director of the Ohio Farm Bureau. Walter Peale of Wilmington will address the farmers on "The Service Department of the Farm Bureau." Short addresses by W. R. Bryson and County Agent F. S. Prince will also feature the program. The String Band and the Chancelor Trio will provide the musical selections for the program. After the addresses a general open discussion on farm topics will be held when all members will be given the opportunity to discuss their farm problems.

JUMPED FROM BARN

CHANGING IDEA IS IMPROVING SCHOOLS EDUCATOR DECLARES

"American teachers are changing their idea from the thing to be taught to the person to be taught," was the statement of Dr. O. G. Brim, of the Department of Rural Education, of the Ohio State University, in an address before the Greene County teacher's meeting, in the assembly room of the Court House, Saturday.

"A tendency is growing in the American educational system, to its betterment, that each individual is unique," Dr. Brim said.

"Schools must bring out this characteristic and peculiarity on the part of each child," he said. "It is the job of the teachers to use books—not teach them. They are a means to an end, but the end or result must be the future of the child and the path he chooses."

"The child who leaves school with much learning and a hate of books has progressed little, but the child who leaves school, knowing little but loving books and the avenue afforded by them to greater learning will succeed," he declared.

"The test of teachers is their ability to impress the child mind with the worth-while things of life. It is not what the child has memorized but what he has gripped and carries on, that is worth-while."

He told the teacher to center his attention on the child in terms of character, whether or not he is kindly, has interest, resourcefulness, originality, responsibility and other character-moulding principles.

The program opened with music by the Beaver-Spring Valley Orchestra. Two songs were sung by a trio composed of Robert Beam, William Ham and Carl Sutton of Spring Valley Township.

Dr. Brim delivered a second address at the afternoon session. Mrs. W. S. Marshall, Yellow Springs, gave an address on "Parent-Teacher Association Responsibility in Rural Schools."

Music was furnished by the orchestra, a number was given by the Masters Brothers Quartette of Alpha, and Miss Wanda Hartsook, gave a vocal solo.

W. B. Bryson, president of the Greene County Board of Education, presided at the meeting. The assembly room was filled by teachers and others interested in educational problems.

PAST CHANCELLORS WILL MEET TUESDAY

The Past Chancellors Association of the K. of P. Lodge of Greene County, will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening, March 10, at Bellbrook. The meeting will be called to order at 8 p.m. by B. F. Thomas, president. All Knights of Pythias of Greene County are cordially invited to attend this meeting. This association is growing and is becoming the "strong arm" of Pythianism, it is said. Those wishing to go to Bellbrook Tuesday evening, will meet at Ivanhoe Hall at 7 o'clock.

MEET NEXT MONTH
Delaware, Mar 9.—The Ohio section of the Mathematical Association of America will meet in Columbus, April 3 in connection with the meeting of the Ohio College Association, according to announcement made here by Prof. Gordon N. Armstrong, Ohio Wesleyan University, secretary of the Ohio Mathematicians' organization.

Don't let that itching keep you awake

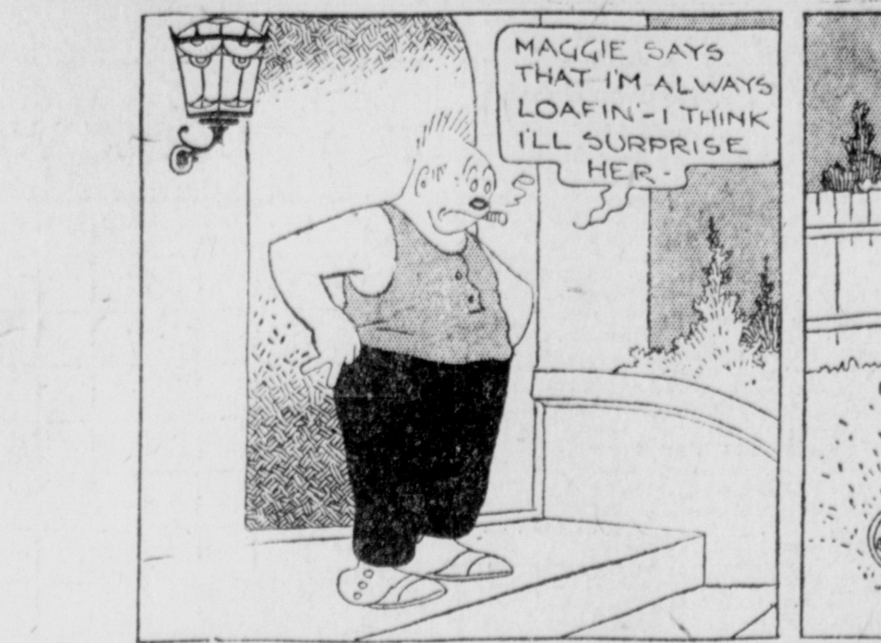

ECZEMA, ringworm, and other itching rashes seldom heal themselves, but Resinol Ointment does heal them and makes refreshing sleep possible for skin sufferers.

One who has used this comforting, healing ointment writes: "Resinol Ointment is so soothing it stopped my itching at once and I got the best night's sleep I had had in weeks. Now my skin is well."

Resinol Soap is a valuable aid to Resinol Ointment, and its daily use for the toilet and bath is sufficient to keep most complexions clear, fresh and glowing. At all druggists.

RESINOL

BRINGING UP FATHER

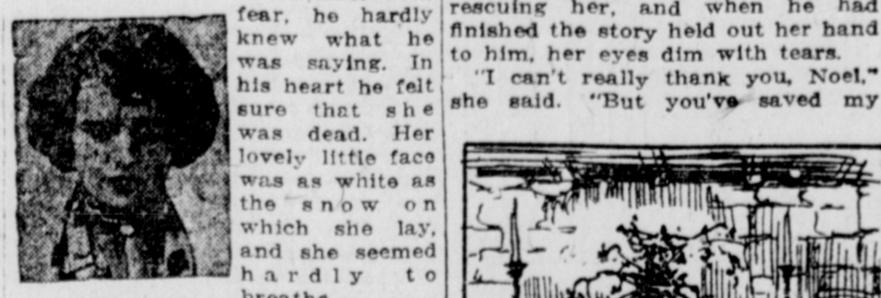

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA LELAND's husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law, LOUELLA, and all her world. CECILE MALCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT
XXXII—ALONE TOGETHER

"CYNTHIA!" Noel cried wildly, bending over the unconscious girl. "Cynthia, dear, speak to me! Are you hurt?"

VIOLET DARE

He tried to bring her back to consciousness by rubbing snow on her face, but after a few moments' unsuccessful effort gave up the attempt. Picking her up carefully after he had unstrapped her skis, he made his way slowly back to the top of the hill. To go on into the woods would be the height of folly, while from the hilltop he might be able to catch sight of some sign of civilization.

When he and Cynthia had stood on the hill it had seemed that there was no house or road anywhere near them. But standing there for some time, Noel studied the landscape far more intently. At last he found what he sought—a house, which had easily escaped his eyes before because it was so long and low, and so completely covered with snow.

It was some distance away, far down in the valley. Noel was an expert on skis, and Cynthia's little body was a light burden for him. He drew a long, deep breath, and then went skimming down the hillside, holding her close to him. He might have posed for a highly modern study of the angel of death as he flew along through the white night, with Cynthia's lovely pale face pressed against his shoulder.

After what seemed years he reached the house, someone's summer camp which had been closed for the winter. He laid Cynthia on one of the built-in seats on the wide veranda, broke the front door's padlock with a stone, forced the inner door, and carried her into the house.

It was the work of but a few moments to make a fire in the big fireplace and lay Cynthia on the couch that he dragged into place in front of it. Carefully he took off her heavy woolen cap; as gently he removed her sweater, and once more set about trying to revive her. Dawn was making its way through the shuttered windows when at last she opened her eyes and looked up at him.

"Don't try to talk," he said quickly. "You were hurt, and I brought you here."

She sighed and tried to lift her head, only to sink back on the pillows with a moan.

"My head," she murmured. "It hurts so."

"Don't try to move; when morning comes I'll get a doctor and we'll see what's the matter." In his relief he wanted to leap and shout for joy. He had been sure that she was dead when he knelt beside her in the woods.

Tomorrow—Back to the World.

Little Boy Blue BLUING

More bluing—less money. Makes clothes snow white. Just a few drops enough for family wash.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.
